Worried owners in fears over cats

THREE cats have died of poisoning in Rugeley in just two weeks - sparking a warning to pet owners. Police have confirmed the deaths but worried owners believe many more are cats going missing.

They say they some are turning up dead or being found dumped in canals. An online campaign group has been set up to warn people and one animal lover is also offering a £400 reward for information that will help lead to the arrest and conviction of those responsible.

Wayne Layton is offering the cash after looking on the Facebook page called Rugeley Missing Pets and being upset by the stories.

Missing

The 45-year-old said: "Reading some of the stories about people's cats going missing or dying from being poisoned I knew I had to do something."

Resident Lisa Greatrix set up the online page after three of her 10 cats went missing under suspicious circumstances over the space of just a few weeks.

She suspects two were poisoned with either slug pellets or anti-freeze. A third cat, Trevor, is still missing.

Staffordshire Police said they had received three reports of cats dying in the Rugeley area between September 2 and 17. Spokesman Sarah Davison said: "Officers from the Local Policing Team were made aware."

Court hope on problem

POLICE officers hoping to eradicate a boy racer problem have handed in an application to solicitors for a High Court injunction.

Youths often congregate at Longford Island and Orbital Retail Park on Sunday nights and are also accused of breaking traffic laws.

Ch Insp Carl Ratcliffe said he believed the application would be heard at the High Court in Birmingham by the end of November.

Lucky escape for motorist after collision with lorry on ring road

A MOTORIST had a lucky escape when his car hit a truck and a traffic light in Cannock town centre.

Police and an ambulance crew were called to the crash at a pedestrian crossing on the ring road in Church Street at 11.30am on Tuesday.

While police directed traffic around the two vehicles, a paramedic checked over the driver of the car, who was found to be unhurt. Officers then cleared the road before it was fully reopened at 12.20pm. It had appeared as though the driver had driven the wrong way out of the retail park and towards the oncoming traffic.

Passing

Office worker Dave Palmer, aged 42, of Great Wyrley, was passing the scene at the time of the accident.

He said: "It looked nasty, I'm glad no-one was hurt."

Parents' concerns allayed by head

PARENTS have expressed their concerns following reports of a man lingering outside a school in Cannock. The man is alleged to have been patrolling Gorsemoor Primary School in Heath Hayes during the hours of 9am and 3pm.

Police have stopped the man and spoken to him but say they found nothing to suggest he had a sinister motive.

A concerned parent whose son attends the school, said: "The man has been hovering outside the school and several parents have been to talk to the head to raise concerns. It's very worrying."

Letter

But head Paul Bennett moved to reassure parents. He said: "Pc Dean Cooper spoke to the man and is confident he has no sinister motive, just a strange routine."

"He has been told not to walk in the area during the start and end of school and a letter will be sent out to parents to let them know."

Inspector Chris Ellerton, of Cannock Chase Local Policing Team, said: "We have spoken to an individual after concerns were raised. Whilst it must be stressed this individual has not committed any offence suitable advice has been given."

In a separate incident, teenagers outside Cannock Chase High School have been approached, offering them employment.

Game shop bookies bid

A BOOKMAKER plans to move into a vacant video games store in Cannock.

William Hill is bidding to open its second branch in the town by taking over the old Gamestation premises, at the other end of Market Hall Street to where the existing bookies branch starts.

The video games store was closed after its parent company Game went into administration in March.

USERS 'LET DOWN' OVER POOL DELAY

by Tom Mason

MEMBERS of Chase Leisure Centre say they feel let down after hearing they will have to wait at least two more months to use its new swimming pool.

The £6.5million refurbishment of the centre in Stafford Road, Cannock, has proved popular with users. However, members are still waiting to use the pool.

The facility was originally due to be have been completed in August but has been delayed until December at the earliest due to ongoing emergency repairs to the competition sized swimming pool and baby friendly training pool.

An inspection following the pools first filling found cracking to the tiles installed by sub contractors Buckinghamshire Pools and Welswood Ceramics prompting the initial delay.

More than 600 children are on the waiting list for lessons and letters have gone out to parents from operators Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust, explaining that the pool would not be not be ready. They say alternative venues at local schools and clubs are being looked for and that no charge will be made for this month's lessons.

But other members have had no option but to pay for their membership either by a monthly payment of up to £55 per month or a one of payment of £550 per year for services that they are not receiving.

Compensation

The district council's Conservative leader Councillor Paul Snape is a member at the centre. The Cannock West ward councillor said: "When the council considers compensation for themselves for delays they also need to think about members who have been paying for months."

Councillor Christine Mitchell, Cannock Chase Council Culture and Sport Leader, said: "I can understand people's frustrations that the pool is still not open for them to use."

"I am extremely disappointed that the problems with the pool have not been fixed yet but I can reassure everyone that everything is being done to get the pool open."

Lions secretary Jayne Marston said if anyone wanted to donate food items to them, Lion members could still go along to homes to collect them. Call 01543 677730.

Christmas food handout halted

A FESTIVE lifeline that has helped hundreds of needy people in Burntwood for two decades will be withdrawn this year due to a shortage of volunteers.

Burntwood Lions is struggling with numbers and has announced it cannot provide its traditional Christmas Food Parcel Collection. There are just nine members left in the 25-year-old club - too small to knock on the hundreds of doors in the area and ask for food donations.

Over the past 20 years, around 250 people have been helped by the service, which targets the poor, elderly or disabled.

Lions secretary Jayne Marston said if anyone wanted to donate food items to them, Lion members could still go along to homes to collect them. Call 01543 677730.

Bakery joins in church milestone

Bakery staff used their loaf to help a village church celebrate a milestone anniversary. St Chad's in Cannock Road, Chads Moor, is 120 years old. As well as a flower festival, shops joined in the celebrations, by window dressing or donning period costumes, like Tina Yapp and Jean Townsend from Tennants Bakery. See Memory Lane on page 10.

Chipping in with stray dog initiative

ALL stray dogs found in Cannock Chase will be micro-chipped as part of an initiative from the council's contracted dog wardens.

The chipping of dogs will be carried out by staff from council contractors Noah's Ark who care for the district's strays at Swanpit Kennels in Gnosall, Stafford.

The scheme is designed to prevent dogs going missing and will be carried out on all dogs regardless if they have an owner or not. Yvonne Hill from Swanpit Kennels which often houses around 20 lost dogs from the Cannock area, said:

"Micro-chipping is one of the best ways to get strays re-united with their owners but unfortunately only about two in 10 of the dogs brought here are microchipped."

Karen Sulway, Cannock Chase Council's environmental protection manager, said: "I'd urge all dog owners to make sure their pet is micro-chipped.

Updated

"What's just as important is that dog owners make sure the details are updated when they move house or if the dog goes to a new owner."

The announcement comes as the council launches a responsible dog ownership campaign in the run-up to Christmas.

Shake-up as tenants in arrears off housing list

TENANTS across Cannock Chase who fall behind on their rent face automatic disqualification from a new home.

The radical plans to slash council house waiting lists in the district were revealed this week. It means tenants who owe money on previous properties will not be considered for one of the authorities 5,500 homes.

House fire discovered by mother on return

A MOTHER came home to find her house filled with smoke after an electrical fault started a fire in the lounge.

The family has been told it is unlikely to be able to move back into the Achilles Close home in Great Wyrley until after Christmas.

Smoke spread damaging all of the of the end-terrace house in Achilles Close, Great Wyrley.

Carer Sue Parker, 37, and her three children had returned from picking up her youngest from nursery at Moat Hall Primary at about 4pm last Thursday.

She raised the alarm after being forced back by the heat and fumes and called business administrator husband David, 41. The spread of smoke damaged the end-terrace house.

Mrs Parker said: "We just feel very lucky no one was in the house."

The Parkers and their three children are now staying in a hotel until they can return home.

Mr Parker said: "We've been told now it will be unlikely we will be allowed back before Christmas."

Those in arrears applying to go to another council property may be evicted.

The waiting list rose to almost 3,000 this year and a shortage of family homes is concerning Cannock Chase Council as 53 four-bedroom properties are available.

Council leader George Adamson said: "This is our way of supporting those people who play by the rules. People who just will not pay cannot expect to get a council house."

"We are very supportive of people who are genuinely in need of a bit of help and we will do everything we can for them. We are talking about tenants who can afford to pay but refuse to keep up with their rent."

Criteria

Up to now tenants in arrears go on the list as a low-priority. A revised policy recommends those owing not go on the list.

In "exceptional circumstances" debts will be cleared and, in a move to get large families off the waiting list and into homes, criteria will change so those with three children get three-bedroom rather than four-bedroom homes.

A cash incentive scheme was announced this year to encourage smaller families to go to bungalows - freeing up larger homes - but the latest report says it should release 12 properties a year.

Seventy homes will replace 170 flats in Moss Road, Chadsmore, in 6m plans, part of a first council home building programme in a quarter of a century.

Trumpet call for old jazz band

Julie Hunter hopes to jog memories of former members of a jazz band for a reunion

FORMER members of a long-defunct children's jazz band are being sought to attend a reunion in Cannock.

The Longford Troupers formed in the 1970s but disbanded during the following decade.

The group is planning to mark what would have been its 40th anniversary with a party at Longford Social Club, in Wellington Drive, next month. Julie Hunter is hoping to drum up support for the event, which takes place on November 17 at 7.30pm.

The jazz band, for youngsters aged nine to 16, marched in competitions for several years before it was discontinued.

The reunion will feature a disco with tickets priced at £2, with all proceeds going to St Giles Hospice.

Anyone interested in attending should call Jackie Scriven on 01543 502820.

Plea for help at toddler sessions

GRANDPARENT-toddler groups in Cannock and South Staffordshire face a shortage of volunteers for their weekly sessions.

The groups, which are paid for by Big Lottery Fund and supported by Age UK South Staffordshire, have been running for several months - but recent increases in attendees have left them short-staffed. Organisers say the shortfall is now hampering attempts to set up new groups.

Intergenerational project leader Laura Price said: "Our volunteers are vital to the successful running of the groups. They encourage interaction at the sessions, as well as preparing the venue for the group and tidying up afterwards."

Local sessions, which are held at Cannock Chase Children's Centre on Cannock Road, provide a place for grandparents to bring their children during the day and socialise while they play.

Ms Price said: "We are looking for enthusiastic people who can commit to volunteering a couple of hours a week."

No experiences is necessary, as training and plenty of support is given to all those helping out."

Take a walk by canalside

A FIVE-and-a-half mile canalside walk takes place next Thursday (November 1). It is being held by the Lichfield branch of the inland Waterways Association and starts at 10.30am.

It will take in countryside wildlife areas and the Trent & Mersey Canal towpath. The meeting point is the Spode Ranch Steakhouse & Grill (formerly the Spode Cottage), at Rugeley Road, Armitage with an optional lunch there afterwards.

Walking boots are advised and route is unsuitable for dogs. Call Margaret Beardsmore on 07581 794111 for more details or email margaret.beardsmore@waterways.org.uk

Time for brunch

A COMMUNITY brunch will be held at a church in Cannock tomorrow (Friday). Chase Baptist Church in Chadsmore, will host the event from 10am to noon. People can raise community concerns at the event.

24-hour fast food opening

A MCDONALD'S restaurant in Cannock has been given permission to open 24 hours at the weekend, but only for a trial period of 12 months.

The fast-food restaurant, in Hemlock Way, Heath Hayes, had previously opened from 5am until 11pm daily.

But following approval by planners at Cannock Chase District Council, the restaurant can stay open from 5am on Friday to midnight on Sunday.

Opening hours during the week will be extended by one hour for midnight closure.

Impact

Kate McBay, spokesman for Council Chase District Council, said: "The council has given approval for one year to give officers time to consider the impact on local area."

In a supporting document for the planning application, agent Balpiti Basi, of Savills, said: "The nearest residential property is situated over 100 metres from the restaurant and on this basis, we do not believe that the extended hours would have any adverse impact on residential amenity."

Mr Basi said the drive-through operation would only be open at the restaurant between the hours of 11pm and 5am.

BURNWOOD man John Smith had not been able to take his wife Margaret on holiday for more than 10 years because of her debilitating illness.

But with help from a local carer, the couple were finally able to enjoy a bungalow break in Wales last month. Margaret, aged 72, has Huntington's Chorea, a neurodegenerative genetic disorder that severely affects her muscle co-ordination.

For the past 18 months, she has been receiving help from Wendy Kay, of Cannock care provider Home Instead.

John, aged 75, said: "I was delighted to finally have this break and now have some wonderful memories from our holiday in Wales. There is no way I would have been able to organise this trip without Wendy's help."

"I don't know what I would have done without her."

Together, John and Wendy organised a specially-adapted bungalow and a van to Porthmadog, where the couple enjoyed walks around the harbour.

John said they had particularly enjoyed seeing the yacht 'Maggie May', which is his pet name for Margaret.

He had previously found himself unable to care for her alone and was struggling to find anyone he could trust enough to help.

When he himself had to go into hospital in April, Wendy stayed with Margaret 24 hours a day so she would not have to go into respite care.

He added: "Margaret has been a lot brighter and happier in herself since she met Wendy."

"Having Wendy as a caregiver has meant that difficult times for me, such as when I had to go into hospital, were made much easier."

Would-be MP joins unions in protest march on cuts

PROSPECTIVE Parliamentary candidate for Cannock Chase, Councillor Janos Toth, joined a delegation for a TUC march through London last weekend.

Councillor Toth and his family joined members of the Cannock branch of The Union of Construction, Allied Trades and Technicians (UCATT) for Saturday's march.

by Will Ackermann

More than 150,000 people travelled to the capital to march to Hyde Park. It was in held in protest at the Tory led Government's austerity measures including many job losses across Cannock Chase.

Tom Dawson, Cannock branch UCATT secretary, was among those in attendance. He said: "Hundreds of thousands of construction jobs have been lost over the last couple of years and this cannot continue."

"We need to get construction workers back to work to provide much needed homes for young families in our area."

Imposing

Labour Councillor Toth, Cannock Chase Council's deputy leader, said: "People from across Britain, teachers, nurses and staff from our own council came to march and protest against the cuts that the Government is imposing."

"I wanted to stand with working people. I'm proud that people from across the region are standing up to the government like this," he added. "The cuts are too deep and too fast and they are not working - we are still in recession."

"We need more jobs and growth in the economy, especially for our young people, who are finding it particularly hard in Rugeley, Hednesford and Cannock."

"When people lose their jobs and can't provide for their families it not only dispirits them but it puts further strain on the welfare budget."

Councillor Toth acknowledged that some cuts were needed and that "we do need to live within our means", but added: "This can't be the right way. We're going to get ourselves into a spiral that we can't get out of."

"It's wrong that the Government is giving millionaires a £40,000 tax cut and raising taxes for hard-working families. The march showed people's anger at the austerity measures."

"This was a day that working people gathered together, standing side by side, to say 'we've had enough'."

Jobs joy in store

NEARLY 100 graduates of an employment training programme have landed jobs at the new Tesco supermarket set to open in Hednesford on November 26.

The 94 recruits, of varying ages and backgrounds, beat hundreds of other applicants to earn their place on the eight-week course, run by Work Solutions through the Hednesford Employment Partnership.

Cannock Chase Council's economic development leader, Councillor Gordon Alcott, appeared at Hednesford Town Football Club for the graduation ceremony on Friday, October 19.

He said: "The calibre of candidates has been very high. Many live within a short distance of the new Tesco store, so it's been a very successful local initiative. Particularly pleasing is the fact that 34 of the candidates are aged between 18 and 24."

The newly-employed graduates made it through three rounds of filtering from an initial screening process to interviews and literacy and numeracy testing.

Jonathan Simpson, corporate affairs manager for Tesco, said: "The benefits of this scheme are now being felt by local people."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

FRIDAY was National Stockings Day. Thanks goodness it's over. I was so glad to get back into woolly socks.

ANYONE know the medical term for an irrational fear of being struck by Austrian stuntmen in space-suits falling out of the sky? Terrifying, isn't it?

SO SCOTLAND alone is to decide whether the United Kingdom should break apart. And if the Scots quit, but 10 or 20 years from now realise it was a terrible mistake, will the rest of us have a vote on letting them back in?

OUR changing language. An ambulance service press release tells us the victim of an accident suffered injuries "that were incompatible with life." Or, as we used to say, fatal.

TWO elderly readers in quick succession report receiving letters posted in England but supposedly sent by someone called Li Wu in China. It's the old inheritance scam. Someone has died and left a huge fortune and Li Wu has been given your name as a trustworthy person who can help in tracing the relatives. They will pay you £1 million or so in commission. And all they need is your bank details. . . .

BUT for sheer brass neck and unbridled confidence, this week's gold award for attempted scamming goes to the bloke in a call centre a long, long way away who, in an almost impenetrable accent, assured me: "Hello. My name is Harry Jones." Nice try.

I AM fully aware that duck is meant to be served pink. But when Nigel Slater stuck his fork into the glistening red flesh of his fried duck on his excellent Dish of the Day (BBC1, repeat), was I the only one expecting it to quack?

NEWCASTLE United has a new sponsor, the loan company Wonga. A reader asks, will the players be expected to go out on the pitch and give 1,471 per cent?

I TAKE voting seriously. I cannot see a polling booth without thinking of the beaches of Normandy or the battlefields of the Somme. But I will make one exception. I have absolutely no intention of voting on November 15 for a police commissioner. I do not like the notion of replacing a police authority with a single person. Inevitably, no matter how low the turnout, these commissioners will be elected. But the smaller the poll, the less they will be able to boast of their "democratic mandate". If their majority is counted in dozens, they might even bring that rare and precious quality to the job. Humility.

IN THE 40 years that Jimmy Savile was abusing a string of boys, girls, hospital patients and prison inmates while the authorities looked the other way, how many thousands of decent British citizens went through the costly, intrusive and utterly time-wasting business of passing a Criminal Records Bureau check?

WHY didn't more victims report being molested by Savile? The scandal reminds me of an interview I did some years ago with a woman who had worked with the stars. She told me of her career in the 1950s as a nanny in a succession of wealthy homes. One of her bosses was a famous comedian. She described, almost matter-of-factly, how he once entered the bathroom, dragged her out of the bath by her ankles and raped her. She did not go to the police. He was a rich, famous and hugely popular celebrity. She was just the nanny. She knew how the system worked. It is hard to imagine, only a few decades ago, the utter helplessness felt by victims of sexual abuse. Jimmy Savile understood it perfectly.

Donations bagged for food initiative

THOUSANDS of people affected by food poverty are to benefit from donations made by generous shoppers in Cannock.

Customers at the town's Sainsbury's branch, at the Orbital Retail Centre on Voyager Drive, gave enough food for 2,000 meals at a collection held on October 6 and 7 - and the supermarket matched their offering. Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley backed the Million Meal Appeal, which was run through food poverty charity FareShare, and met customers during the event.

He said: "It was great to see the generosity of Sainsbury's Cannock customers who made a donation to this fantastic initiative. Food poverty is still a major issue in this country and the Million Meal Appeal helps to address the situation and tackle the issue head-on. Every donation is going to support charities and projects that need our help, so thank you to everyone in Cannock who donated."

More than 900 stores participated in the appeal nationally, together bringing in two million meals for 720 charities and projects across the UK - doubling the original target.

Items collected included tinned foods, dried pasta, pasta sauces, rice, tea and instant coffee.

FareShare CEO Lindsay Boswell said: "The response to the Million Meal Appeal has been incredible. We'll be able to combine the donated items with the short life surplus meat, fruit and vegetables that we receive daily from the food industry. It will make these surpluses go even further in a time of real need."

Caring drivers deliver that welcome service

THEY navigate steep climbs and muddy country lanes in any weather. It seems nothing will stop the army of meals-on-wheels drivers delivering an eagerly awaited shepherd's pie or cod bake.

The service is currently under the spotlight after October was designated meals-on-wheels awareness month.

In Staffordshire 800 meals a day are delivered from the county's Hednesford headquarters.

Around 30 drivers, mainly young mothers and the semi-retired, head out seven days a week to homes in Stafford, Cannock, Rugeley, Hednesford and Lichfield as well as Wolverhampton and Walsall and villages such as Wombourne and Kinver.

Customers

"I don't think we've ever not delivered. If the weather is really bad and the roads are dangerous, we'll park as near as we can and take the meals on foot," says Heather Short, community meals assistant at the Icare base in Keys Park Road.

"You build up a bond with your customers and you don't want to let them down. We deliver to one lady in Hall Close, Stafford, who is over 100 and still living independently.

"I've known older people whose husband or wife has passed away and you go through that journey with them. You also know instinctively if something is not quite right."

Heather's instincts saved the life of retired postman Paul Roberts earlier this year after he had fallen at his Cannock home.

Driver Tracey Clenton-Smith hands a meal to Margaret James

Community meals assistant Heather Short beside her van

The 70-year-old had been lying on his living room floor for more than 12 hours when Heather knocked at the door, calling the emergency services when he did not answer. Paramedics broke in and found the pensioner semi-conscious and severely dehydrated.

He was in hospital for several weeks but has since made a full recovery. Drivers have talks from organisations like the Stroke Association and the Alzheimer's Society to recognise the first signs of illness. They also work with Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service, alerting them if smoke detectors are missing.

Workers earn the minimum wage, plus mileage for using their own vehicles, traveling up to 90 miles a day. Heather's morning starts at 7am when the first batch of meals are heated and dispatched by courier to Fenton, in the north of the county.

"The Hednesford deliveries follow, then the rest of the meals are heated before being taken on the road. To maintain their temperatures, the food cartons are stacked on granite and packed in insulated boxes. Around 150 meals are delivered to Stafford, including Wildwood, Weeping Cross, the town centre, Queensville and Oxleather Court, near Western Downs.

Stafford meals are largely frozen, with many people having seven packs for a week. Customers pay £3.75 a meal if referred through a social worker or £5.30 if booked privately.

The service has endured many cuts, says Heather,

Heather Short and Margaret Tunstall aged 46. "But we're still here. That's what the awareness month is about."

"A lot of people think we've been cut altogether but we've survived and are very much a lifeline."

Heather has had other job offers for more money and better hours but has turned them down, saying: "This is my dream job. How could I tell my regulars that I wasn't coming any more? That would be terrible. I couldn't do it, and I wouldn't want to."

Gas tank wrangle closer to solution

A BID to move gas tanks at the centre of a four-year legal row in Wolverhampton is closer to fruition after a planning application was lodged.

There were calls for the planning permission to be revoked at the £40m Victoria Hall student village because they fall within the blast zone of liquid petroleum gas tanks stored legally at Carvers Building Supplies.

But after a battle between Wolverhampton City Council and the Health and Safety Executive, the authority has bought land eight miles away in Gailey, near Penkridge, for Carvers - and will cover the costs of moving the tanks.

Unbuilt

A planning application has now been lodged.

If the council had not bought the land the alternative would have been to revoke planning permission for the as yet unbuilt fourth block of halls of residence, and for the authority to have forked out millions in compensation.

Henry Carver, managing director of Carvers Building Supplies, said: "It is very good news and we are hoping permission will be granted."

Half-term dance class

A STREET and cheerdance holiday club takes place during the half-term break in Burntwood.

Lucy Bacon is running the sessions for children aged from five to 12 at Redwood Park Youth and Community Centre which is administered by Beacon Community Church.

Sessions will run from Tuesday, October 30 to Friday, November 2 from 9am until noon. They cost of £20 for four days or £7 a day.

For more details, or to book a place, call 07969 852063.

Open success

AN open tournament at a Rugeley golf club raised £500 towards a defibrillator for the club. Some 100 golfers took part in the seniors competition, sponsored by Nankang Performance Tyres, together with the UK distributors Westland at Hawkesyard Estate.

Man, 43, in attack on girlfriend

A MAN who beat his girlfriend, leaving her with a dislocated nose and extensive bruising, before racially abusing his probation officer was spared further jail time.

Wolverhampton crown court heard Lorne Ikin, of Chillington Close, Cheslyn Hay, was going to see his probation officer when he and his girlfriend had a heated argument.

The 43-year-old was abusive and, as she walked away, he grabbed her, pushed her into a bush, punching her in the face, said Mr David Lees, prosecuting.

Assault

She broke away but Ikin followed. He ignored pleas to stop and his probation officer arrived to face a tirade of "hurtful" racial abuse.

In defence, Richard Quinn said Ikin apologised for what he accepted was "wholly unacceptable behaviour" after he drank heavily.

Ikin admitted assault by beating, using racially aggravated threatening words and behaviour and breaching a conditional discharge. He had his six-month jail sentence suspended for 12 months on condition he attends an alcohol treatment programme. He had already spent 14 weeks in custody following his arrest.

He is banned from going near Wolverhampton probation offices.

The sounds of wartime

A RUGELEY group is to perform an evening of wartime nostalgia and songs.

The Best of Friends is providing the entertainment at St Michael's Church, Brereton, on Saturday, November 3, from 7.15pm. Tickets are £4, including refreshments, either from the church, in Main Road, or from Steve on 07870 147069.

A Christmas market is also being held at the church from noon until 3pm on Saturday, November 24. It will feature a tombola, grand draw, toy, craft, bottle and book stall, Wii dance challenge, X Box racing and Father Christmas.

Advice surgery

BONEY Hay Ward councillors Diane Evans, Russell Heath and Ron Bradbury are holding their regular surgery on Saturday (October 27). The surgery, held every last Saturday of the month, takes place at Boney Hay WMC, North Street, from 11am to noon.

Beauty students win through to contest final

The full South Staffordshire college WorldSkills finals team

A GROUP of South Staffordshire College Beauty students has successfully made it to the finals of WorldSkills UK in November at the Birmingham NEC.

Cannock Campus students Kayleigh Johnson and Chloe Bowdler, together with Jordan Hunter, Sarah Lea and Gemma Clark from the Tamworth Campus, all study advanced and intermediate beauty therapy, nail art and nail enhancement and were part of a 14-strong squad from South Staffordshire College competing in the regional rounds. They go on to perform a series of beauty therapies including a manicure, leg wax, back treatment and nail art, as part of their routine at the finals.

Journey

Charlotte Burford, a former WorldSkills finalist herself and now college beauty therapy instructor, said the national final showcases all the hard work put in by students.

"This has been a fantastic journey for our learners and to progress to the finals of such an internationally recognised event shows the high standards they have achieved through their time studying at the college," she said. WorldSkills UK is a framework of regional and national skills competitions delivered each year across the UK for young people and adults. The WorldSkills competitions aim to showcase excellence and help lift standards of training and performance to promote World Class skills.

Thaw your eyes only as actor recalls his brush with star

A RUGELEY actor has recalled his life on stage and screen, with Kathy Bates and John Thaw among the best-known people he has met or worked with. A retired product designer, supporting actor Trevor Turner is also a mason at his local lodge – and a poet to boot. The 77-year-old, from Hob Hill area of Brereton has lived a very full life.

Born as the son of a blacksmith in rural Wales, Trevor had early hopes of becoming mechanic but his dad said he wanted more for his young son. Trevor went to study at Walsall Art College and remained as a governor there for 32 years.

First turbine scheme since rule change

A 300FT wind turbine earmarked for Cannock will be the first to be decided on since strict new rules came into force at Staffordshire County Council.

Prowind UK Ltd's planned turbine in Newlands Lane would be the 17th built in the Staffordshire countryside if approved. But it will face a stern test by planners after a local authority motion approved last week provides objection to any turbine above 164ft in height. The motion also allows the council to turn down developments of more than 10 turbines at a single site.

Under the plan, the wind turbine would be built on land currently used for animal grazing by a farming family living at Hather-ton Hall Farm. The scheme had originally been for seven turbines but this was reduced to a two-turbine proposal and now a one. The turbine, which would be just over half-a-mile from the nearest residential property, would take four months to build and would be operated for about 25 years. It would provide enough electricity to power 390 homes a year.

No date has yet been set for a planning committee meeting to make a decision on it.

The planning application has received three objections from nearby residents, each including concerns over noise from the turbine and its impact on the countryside.

Another resident of Newlands Lane, who did not want to be named, said: "I don't like the idea. It would be too noisy."

Mr Turner has always had an interest in the performing arts and alongside his various acting roles he has written poetry that has been published in Walsall Arts College's collections of poetry. Mr Turner said: "My daughters are always telling me to publish more of my poetry but I do it as much for my own enjoyment as for others to read."

However it is his achievements in acting that have made him given the most pleasure – and renown. Although the majority of his TV roles have been as a supporting artist or extra, he has had a number of famous liaisons.

Mr Turner remembers some of the famous actors he met. He said: "I landed a minor role with Kathy Bates being filmed in the Liver building in Liverpool. She was good to work with but nothing like I would expect an Oscar award winner to be like."

Chapel

Trevor met his wife Dorothy, 73, on set on the set of a John Brown play. The couple were later married at Stafford and Newport Baptist chapel and went on to have three daughters Jayne, Nicola and Sian.

But his favourite memory of his time in film was working with John Thaw on the set of a film in which Trevor played an MP.

He said: "When filming was finished I parked my car and this fellow came up behind me and mistook me for the actor. Later on the way back to my car I bumped into John. I was driving a Ford and he was driving a Rolls Royce. Being cheeky I asked which one he was going home in."

Bakery eyes town

BAKERY chain Greggs wants to open a shop in Hednesford. Bosses are believed to have got their eye on the new Victoria Shopping Park development. Company spokesman Oonagh Spence said: "We definitely have an interest in bringing Greggs to Hednesford and are hoping to find a suitable unit."

Companies responsible for chlorine spill fined

TWO firms have been landed with a court bill of almost £60,000 for their part in a chemical spillage at a Hednesford gym and pool.

Eight people - four of them children - needed hospital treatment after breathing in toxic chlorine gas the pool Nuffield Health Wellbeing's pool in March 2009.

The incident occurred only months after the company had taken over the former Cannons Health Club in East Cannock Road. Nuffield Health Wellbeing and Honeywell Control Systems, who maintain the pool machinery, were each fined £45,000 at Stafford magistrates court. Each had to pay court costs of £14,754.

Oxygen

The court heard swimmers began coughing, crying and struggled to breathe. The building was evacuated and the fire service called.

Mr Barry Berlin, prosecuting on behalf of Cannock Chase District Council, described how distressed parents saw their children's lips turn blue and had to be given oxygen at the scene.

Mr Berlin said Nuffield employed Honeywell to maintain the pool plant room, and on the day, engineer Allan Dean had mistakenly poured sodium hypochlorite into the sodium bisulphate, causing the escape of the chlorine gas.

This "presented a significant risk to people's health". However due to the quick action of the staff, "serious injury was reduced".

Mr Berlin said the pool had "shoddy practices". Both companies admitted three counts of breaching general duties of visitors, breaching duties to employees and contravening health and safety.

Mr Dominic Kay, for Nuffield, said the breaches were not willful or intentional. For Honeywell, Mr Jonathan Laidlaw said it was human error.

Jobs joy for ex-staff as Fashion Factory reopens

Staff celebrate getting their jobs back at the Fashion Factory in Vine Lane, Bridgtown, which has recently re-opened

STAFF who were to be laid off following the closure of a Cannock fashion outlet have been given their old jobs back thanks to a buy out from a local businessman.

More than 30 jobs at the Fashion Factory in Vine Lane, Bridgtown, will be kept and the store has now officially re-opened thanks to new owner Philip Yates.

Employees had been told in July that the store would be closing after 18 years of selling gowns and formal wear to the public.

Bosses at the time blamed the surge in internet sales of prom dresses for the company's voluntary liquidation, but new owner Mr Yates has found new ways to combat online sales.

Comfort

He has worked as a consultant to factory outlets across the region for 36 years. He said: "I knew about the store and I knew the potential that it had. I decided it was time to put my money where my mouth is."

A further 10 staff have been employed alongside those that were re-hired.

The store unofficially opened on September 26 but will celebrate its official opening tomorrow (Friday) with a three day, 20 per cent sale. Mr Yates added "We have had an exceptional reception from the public, people like the space and can shop in comfort, they know they can get things here that they can't get anywhere else."

He said that plans were under way, following the store's initial success, to find other sites across the country to open new shops.

Club up for the craic

A CANNOCK club will be up for the craic at an Irish charity evening. St Mary's Club, in Hunter Road, hosts the Irish Hooly night on Saturday November 3 from 7.30pm. Money raised will go to St Mary's Church funds. Tickets include a two-course Irish meal and cost £12.95. Call 01543 579364 to book.

Let's get the town back on the map

I WAS delighted to read the recent article in The Chronicle regarding the new community facility opening in Hednesford.

The Aquarius Ballroom has been well missed by everyone and although the Civic has stepped in, it will be great to see the new building open and to hopefully see Mike Allsopp back at the helm.

My daughter's wedding is booked for September 21 next year and would love to have the opportunity to have it at the new facility.

The new Tesco will be great but generally people shop and go straight home.

I feel that putting the new Aquarius back on the map will generate so much new business into Hednesford and regenerate something that was dying.

Let's get Hednesford back on the map.

Committed to meeting housing needs

I WOULD like to respond to the letter from R Peaty in The Chronicle (October 4) regarding Cannock Chase Council's social housing policy.

Cannock Chase Council owns and manages 5,400 council homes and all of these meet the decent homes standard in accordance with Government guidelines. The council is committed to providing and maintaining council houses so that residents can have access to a home. We are to build 65 council houses, the majority on the Moss Road estate in Cannock, and others within the district. The money is not available to provide all the homes we require.

We therefore work in partnership with Housing Associations and house-builders to provide more homes. For example we worked with Sanctuary Housing Association to redevelop the Bevan Lee estate and provide 128 homes. More recently we worked with both Waterloo Housing Association and Lovell to provide another 100 social homes on the former Elizabeth Road estate. On this scheme there is the opportunity to rent, enter into shared ownership or access the Home Buy scheme.

There is a massive need for social housing across Cannock Chase and council leader George Adamson, housing member Councillor Frank Allen and myself are committed to meeting the housing needs of our residents.

Report all good care at hospital

IT WAS refreshing to see another letter telling about the excellent care they were given at Stafford Hospital.

I went there by choice to have an operation as I have always found Stafford an excellent facility. The hospital and staff need us, the general public, to keep reporting examples of the good care and treatment we have had there, to try to dispel all the negativity around.

I am tired of all the negative comments surrounding the hospitals at Stafford and Cannock. The only way we can save them is to prove to the knackers that they providing excellent care.

There will always be some bad outcomes, but why are they the only ones featured, when there are thousands of positive experiences?

Everyone wants the A & E to reopen, but if the NHS Trust can't show that we believe it to be a centre of excellence, how can they recruit the staff they need?

Well done to Windies

AFTER such a long time in the cricketing wilderness how refreshing it was to see the West Indies win the Twenty 20 final.

I know the purists argue that this is just a five-hour slog compared to the challenging five day ordeal of Test cricket. Nevertheless it's a start.

The West Indies cricket board are to be commended for their patience and vigilance during this period in the doldrums.

Great recycling work

I'M staggered that our local MP want us to be like everyone he knows and go back in time to having our bins emptied weekly.

Do none of Mr Burley's crowd want to carry on the great work we are all achieving by recycling significant amounts of our waste and reducing the vast amounts we were sending to landfill? It's time for one more item to be recycled and that's our MP I would assume in the blue bin.

Polished performance

WE were recently invited to see the Chase Harmony production of Prime Time TV at the Prince of Wales Centre, Cannock.

What we witnessed was a very polished performance and by a very happy and professional company and I would wish anyone seeing future productions advertised to consider supporting a local amateur group who perform with obvious relish. We very much enjoyed our evening out.

Other people have view in democracy

HORACE of Hednesford really does need to stop looking at everything through blue tinted glasses and blaming Labour controlled Cannock Chase Council for everything. His latest whinge is to blame Labour because a member of the public asked about the possibility of setting up a town council for Cannock. Last time I looked this is still a democracy and people are allowed to have their own views.

Come on Horace, don't be so intolerant, let other members of the public have a viewpoint, even if you don't agree with it and stop this childish blaming of Labour for everything. You seem very quiet about police cuts, NHS privatisation, lengthening hospital waiting lists and the double dip recession. I wonder why?

The best way to improve the economic fortunes of the whole of Cannock Chase would be for this out of touch, incompetent Government to resign

Insurance blow after property is hit by fire

A FAMILY has been left devastated after a fire ravaged their Noton Canes home – leaving them thousands of pounds in debt after they discovered they had no insurance.

Civil engineer Mark Dix returned home from his job in Chasetown to find his street in Norton Canes blocked by the emergency services.

A police officer at the scene told him the family's semi-detached house had been severely damaged by smoke from the neighbouring property. A major fire had started accidentally in a caravan and then spread.

It has left the 53-year-old, his wife Ellie and their 26-year-old son homeless and still reeling from the events on Friday, October 12.

Damaged

Mrs Dix, aged 51, a facility manager for Carillion in Wolverhampton, was just leaving work when her husband broke the news over the phone.

"I was just on my way to Asda to get some shopping for the weekend.

"Mark said not to bother because there was no oven to cook in. It was hard to take in."

The whole house, except for the front room and one of the bedrooms, was blackened and heat damaged.

The couple were coming to terms with their loss when they were then told they had no buildings insurance cover.

The family believed they were covered and are now involved in a legal dispute with their insurance company over the matter. "That was a major blow," said Mrs Dix. "We felt very desolate.

"We thought we might be able to claim on our neighbours' insurance but we can't because the fire wasn't started maliciously," she said.

Help has come from building maintenance firm Polygon at Burntwood

Business Park which has agreed to clean up free of charge.

"The work would have cost £2,000 so we're very grateful. It's the one comfort in what has been a terrible situation. The ceilings have got to come out because the smoke went through to the void, all the walls have to be cleaned, it's such a mess."

Celebrations as church marks 120th birthday

THE LORD Lieutenant of Staffordshire opened a Cannock church's 120-year celebrations last weekend.

St Chad's Church, in Chadsmoor, staged a celebratory flower festival, with Ian Dudson performing the opening at the Cannock Road church.

A number of clubs exhibited, while the Cannock Chase Orpheus Male Voice Choir also joined in the celebrations. Shop windows were dressed for the occasion, while traders also got into the spirit by donning period costume.

The church was originally founded in 1874 on the corner of Cannock Road and Church Street and was also used as a school.

The population of Chadsmoor population was outgrowing both the church and the school, so in November 1888 a meeting was arranged to discuss the need for a new church. Permission was granted but finances were an issue.

by Mark Shipp

In January 1889, vicar's warden Mr FD Bumpstead offered £200 towards the Church Building Fund. Donations subsequently came from wealthy members, parishioners and friends. The area's MP Harmer Bass gave £200.

A suitable site on common land, about four acres, was found, and, after locating the owner, a price of £104 was agreed. Samuel Loxton from Walsall and Cannock was engaged as architect and a Mr Barton from Hednesford, successfully tendered for the building work at a price of £2,220. The church was designed to hold 300 worshippers.

The Vicar of Cannock 'drove in the first peg'. However, no date was recorded. Two foundation stones were laid on Easter Monday, March 30 1891, one by Lady Hatherton and the second by Mrs G Bumpstead, wife of the benefactor. Many items inside the St Chad's were gifts from other churches. The font was given by the Vicar of Bodenhams, Herefordshire and had been used in their parish church. The tiles around the choir stalls and the narrow vine border around the altar were gifted by the Rector of Haughton.

Service

The church was not completed by the date intended – September 1891 but in March 1892. A date of April 6 1892 was fixed for the consecration service. It was finally consecrated on October 19, 1892, in a service conducted by the Rt Rev the Lord Bishop.

On the following Sunday the Rev T Rogerson preached his first sermon in the new church. During the Second World War, St Chad's was the only church in the district to have blackout curtains and be able to hold evening services. The first confirmation service was held on June 26, 1943 and in 1960 it became licensed for marriages.

Speaker's fee given to charity Lion Mac seizes that window of opportunity

CHASE TERRACE LADIES

"DON'T take back pain lying down" – an interesting statement and one which physiotherapist Diane Craig firmly believes in.

Guest speaker Diane is a chartered physiotherapist who qualified in 1976 and has been in private practice since 1987. She is based at Burntwood Library at Sankeys Corner and can be contacted for a consultation on 01543 676612.

Diane explained that her first aim is to get rid of pain, improve movement and then to show patients how to prevent a recurrence of their problem. She believes that you don't have to live with pain.

With the aid of models of the spine Diane showed how the spine is made up, how it works and where stresses and strains occur. She told of various techniques that can be used in everyday life to try to prevent back and joint problems.

In lieu of a fee Diane asked the group to make a charitable donation so together with the money made at an recent auction, the ladies are able to send a cheque for £200 to St Giles Hospice.

After refreshments the raffle was drawn and the meeting was closed.

The next meeting will be the annual fish and chip supper.

to date she has more than 180 different ones.

In August, group member Margaret Smallman described a visit to Raymond Blanc's restaurant in Oxfordshire. Her talk was both informative and humorous.

At the September meeting Ian Bott brought to life, with details, some of the Black Country Murders.

On October 1 David Battersby gave a talk about Bee Keeping with a wicked sense of humour. Members' night is the next meeting on November 5.

Extra funding for council tax scheme is welcomed

CANNOCK Chase Council's opposition leader has welcomed an additional £100m of funding to help develop local council tax benefit schemes across the country.

Conservative Councillor Paul Snape said: "This is new and additional funding for local councils to use and will supplement the £30m of funding already provided to help draw up such schemes."

The authority having its own local scheme would give it a stronger incentive to cut fraud, promote local enterprise and get people back into work, he said.

He added it would also help to tackle the deficit and promote best practice at local levels.

"If drawn up properly it should prevent cash being wasted by fraudulent claims, administrative error and money spent on those too lazy to work."

In pink for Zumba

Zumba instructor Emily Chetter who is hosting a fundraising class to generate cash for breast cancer

A ZUMBA instructor is staging a fundraising session in aid of breast cancer research.

Emily Chetter, aged 20, has been teaching Zumba for around three years and holds classes in Penkridge, Great Wyrley and Stafford. The fundraising session takes place next Monday, October 29, at the Monckton Recreation Centre in Pinfold Lane, Penkridge from 7-8pm.

"We want to raise as much money as possible as I believe it's such a good cause," she said.

The cost of the class is £4 and participants are asked to wear something pink. There will also be a raffle.

To book, call Emily on 07527 354413.

Shortage of skills sees jobless rise

BUSINESS leaders have blamed a shortage of skilled workers for a rise in unemployment in Staffordshire last month.

Numbers claiming job-seekers allowance went up in Cannock Chase, Lichfield, South Staffordshire and Stafford in September with the total claimant count across the county at 14,964.

Lichfield recorded the largest rise, surging by 126 to 1,539, or 2.5 per cent of the working population.

In Cannock Chase, 43 extra claimants joined the dole queue, taking the total to 2,334 or 3.8 per cent of the working population.

The figure was up 38 in South Staffordshire to 1,773, or 2.7 per cent, and 17 to 1,825, or 2.3 per cent, in Stafford.

Nationally, the number of people claiming jobseekers allowance dropped 4,000 to 1.57million. In the West Midlands, the claimant count rose 3,168 to 167,834.

Staffordshire Chamber of Commerce spokesman John Lamb said employers in the county were looking for staff but were struggling to find applicants who met their requirements.

"One of the big reasons for this rise is a lack of skills," he said.

Vacancies

"There are vacancies out there and, as the Government has said, it is going to be the private sector that gets us out of this situation."

"They are going to provide the jobs but it is a matter of making the skills available to them."

"That is a huge problem in Staffordshire and the West Midlands as a whole."

Mr Lamb urged young unemployed people to visit skills fairs to find out what they needed in order to land a job.

Ramble round reservoir

AN EASY nine-mile walk is this weekend's offering by the Chase & District Ramblers. The walk will take in Abbots Bromley & Stockwell Heath including Blithfield Reservoir on Sunday (October 28). Meet at Hednesford rail station car park, in Anglesey Street for a prompt 9am departure.

Rescue team volunteers put through paces

Pulling in a drowning 'victim' using a rope line during the Staffs Search and Rescue Team training exercise

STUDENT volunteers were put through their paces on a training course. More than a dozen new members of Staffordshire Search and Rescue Team learned fundamental skills, including navigation and search techniques.

The basic search technician course also covered water bank searches and rope rescues.

The charity has more than 50 members and supports emergency services with search and rescue operations in Staffordshire. It has dedicated volunteers with specialist training to locate and rescue missing people in urban and rural lowland areas. The course took place at Shugborough Outdoor Education Centre and involved a practical test on Cannock Chase when the new volunteers were tasked with finding missing people. A team of 13 advanced volunteers were also given flood training.

Fundraising officer and trainer Rob Messenger, aged 22, said: "We have had 10 call outs this year so far to assist the emergency services. It is getting more popular."

"Even if we save one life a year it is better than saying none. It provides a valuable service to the community."

Energy firm sales boost

SALES have soared by 22 per cent at a Cannock energy firm buoyed by its part in helping to stage the London 2012 Olympic Games.

Aggreko, which employs 90 at its Voyager Drive base, was the exclusive supplier of energy services for the Olympics and Paralympics. It said the games and strong trading in its local businesses had boosted revenue.

Its international power projects' revenue also grew 15 per cent for the last quarter. Aggreko said the final value of the London 2012 Olympics contract had been £59 million - the largest ever contract for power for a major sporting event.

Demanding

It supplied 550 generators and 900 miles of cable for 44 sites used the Games.

"We are all proud of the excellent performance of our events team in faultlessly delivering this demanding contract," a company statement said.

Aggreko plans to spend about £415m on improving its fleet in the current year including generators, chillers and heaters. The company's order books are also at record levels.

Aggreko operates in 29 countries across a wide variety of industries. Its UK operation started in Scotland in 1973 and the group head office is in Glasgow. Its national rental centre is in Cannock.

Schoolgirl's on write lines with poem

With her poem Will I Survive? is Mia Smith, aged 11, a Year Six pupil at Norton Canes Primary School

A POEM depicting the horrors of the Second World War through the eyes of a child has been penned by a Norton Canes schoolgirl.

Mia Smith, aged 11, wrote Will I Survive? ahead of a ceremony to be held by Norton Canes Primary for the village community for Remembrance Day.

After learning about both world wars, Mia, along with other Year 6 pupils, penned the verse based on research and the work of poets such as Wilfred Owen. Mia's poem is written from the perspective of a girl called Maggie Rose, who is sitting in an Anderson Shelter while bombs go over her head. She worries about her father who is fighting on the front line.

The poem is one of about 30 pieces of children's work which will be read out to the Royal British Legion and village residents at the school's service on November 9.

MP joins select committee

CHASE MP Aidan Burley is calling for local views on the benefit system to bring to his new role as a member of the government's Work and Pensions Select Committee.

The cross-party committee, headed by Labour MP Dame Anne Begg, scrutinises the work of the Department for Work and Pensions and holds inquiries into the government's welfare and pensions policy. Mr Burley will be formally made a member on Monday (October 29). The vacancy became available following the recent government reshuffle.

He said: "I am honoured to be joining such an important committee looking at vital areas. These are issues of significant importance to local people here in Cannock Chase."

"In order to help fulfil my role effectively, I feel it is important that I hear first hand from local people about their own personal experiences with the benefit system."

Mr Burley, who has previously served on the Home Affairs Select Committee, said he saw it as his role to hold the government to account and ensure the recent Welfare Reform Bill was implemented "as swiftly as possible".

He added: "The Bill marks the most comprehensive overhaul of the welfare system since its inception."

Chase residents can share their experiences with Mr Burley at the Help Zone shop, on High Green Court, Newhall Street, Cannock.

Agencies gather to voice concerns on trafficking

SEVEN guest speakers addressed invited guests at a sex trafficking awareness event in Cannock.

The evening was organised by Cannock Soroptimists as a follow-up to a previous event in May.

Professionals from a wide range of organisations and agencies across the West Midlands gathered at St Luke's Primary School in New Penkridge Road.

The meeting came just a week after the conviction at Stafford crown court of two men for sexual abuse and trafficking of young girls in Telford.

Opening the meeting, Soroptimist Trish Mellor said: "We are being made more aware that sexual exploitation and trafficking is a widespread and extremely serious issue."

Outlined

The opening speaker was Alison Cook, senior assertive outreach practitioner for the SAFE project, who outlined a recent case dealt with by this sexual health project - funded by the Heart of England Foundation Trust NHS - which concerned a young woman trafficked from Romania.

Clive Cartman-Frost, specialist safeguarding development manager for Strategic Safeguarding, Staffordshire County Council and Lynne Milligan, development officer, Staffordshire Safeguarding Children Board outlined some of the work going on in Staffordshire, explaining that in the preceding 12 months there had been 130 cases in the county investigated by the Police Sexual Exploitation Team.

Pc Yvonne Shorto, of Staffordshire Police, expanded on the role of the Police Sexual Exploitation Team which comprises eight specially trained senior detective officers, while Tracey Hardie, manager of SARAC, Sexual Abuse and Rape Advice Centre, also gave a presentation.

Soroptimist Ann Rotchell, Alison Cook, SAFE, Lynne Milligan, Staffordshire Safeguarding Children Board, Clive Cartman-Frost, Specialist Safeguarding Development Manager, Stephen Willey, chairman of the West Midlands Anti-Trafficking Network, Pc Yvonne Shorto and Soroptimist Trish Mellor

Network

Steph Alexander from Staffordshire's Women's Aid's Cannock branch spoke about the work carried out by the team before Stephen Willey, chairman of the West Midlands anti-trafficking network, gave the final address.

Soroptimist Renee White from SI Wolverhampton congratulated SI Cannock & District for the work they had done in bringing this issue to the fore.

Mrs Mellor said: "The message which came through during the evening was that there is a need for us to be more open as a society to what is going on around us, more ready to listen when someone wants to talk, more aware of changes in behaviour which may indicate an abusive relationship and more willing to report information and give evidence in order to convict the perpetrators of this awful crime and protect vulnerable people."

Public consulted on future plans for stadium site

Councillor Chris Mitchell and Council leader George Adamson at the site of Cannock Stadium

A PUBLIC consultation by Cannock Chase Council is looking for residents' opinions on the future development of the town's former sports stadium.

The discussion has come after a decision in May to take the site in Pye Green Road off the development list and turn the green area into a public open space.

The council plans to turn this land into a sports and community hub, with the first stage of the project, due to start on November 30, designed to understand what local residents need and want from the redevelopment of the site.

by Tom Mason

Mitchell, said: "Encouraging active and healthy lifestyles is a priority for us and we want to provide opportunities for residents to enjoy a range of sports and leisure activities on this site. "We have a wonderful opportunity to create a sport and recreation hub that will benefit the whole community so I appeal to everyone to get involved in the consultation."

The consultation questionnaire is now available on the council's website at www.cannockchase.gov.uk or at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/stadium> site and additional paper copies of the questionnaire be available at the council's Civic Centre and area offices.

To request a paper copy, call 01543 462621.

Reflect

Councillor George Adamson, Cannock Chase Council leader, said: "We want to make the community sport and recreation hub a major part of the London 2012 legacy for Cannock Chase District."

"It's a large site with a number of potential uses so I urge everyone to get involved to make sure our plans will reflect what is needed and meet the needs of the District as a whole."

Cannock Chase Council culture and sport portfolio holder, Councillor Christine

Free printing just the ticket for fundraiser

A CANNOCK-based digital print firm has got involved with a Birmingham Children's Hospital fun day by offering to print tickets to the event for free.

The fun day is being held raise funds for the hospital's children's cancer centre appeal and takes place on November 25, at Cocks Moor Wood Leisure Centre in Birmingham.

PRINTmonster offered to print 300 tickets for free after being approached by oncology/haematology day care staff. Two other firms refused to do the work without payment.

Samantha Bissell, clinical support worker, said: "We can't thank them enough. They've definitely helped a great cause and contributed to a fantastic event."

Helpers are needed for heathland management

VOLUNTEERS are invited to roll up their sleeves for a conservation clear-up at Chasewater Country Park this weekend.

The heathland management day will take place on Sunday, October 28 from 10.30am to 3pm. Volunteers, who must be aged 18 or over, will be cutting back scrub.

The event will start from Chasewater Heath Station, off the A5190 roundabout at the west of Burntwood.

Volunteers should wear suitable clothes and bring a packed lunch or money for food from a nearby cafe. Tools and training, along with hot and cold drinks, will be provided. To book a place, call 01543 308183 or email denice.deverall@lichfieldcc.gov.uk

Outstanding volunteer

Steve Welch is presented with his AONB Volunteer of the Year award by Councillor Pat Ansell

THE Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty team has named Steve Welch as its Volunteer of the Year.

The awards were first presented last year with husband and wife duo Fred and Glynis Ward the inaugural winners.

This year, the award was given to Mr Welch from London, who has dedicated a huge amount of his free time leading the Fixed Point Photography project in Cannock Chase AONB over the last eight years.

The fixed point photography project was set up by the AONB in 2004. There are 56 fixed points and twice a year 30 to 35 volunteers go out to their point and photograph the view. The end result is a suite of photographs that allows the AONB to monitor landscape change over time.

Project

Ruth Hytch, Cannock Chase AONB Officer, said: "We can only function with the support of our fantastic volunteers, who give their time and energy to helping Cannock Chase AONB."

"We chose Steve because he has put in so much effort into running the photography project. He also sits on our Advisory Partnership as the AONB parish council representative and as the West Midlands' resident expert on birds."

To find out more about volunteering for Cannock Chase AONB, and taking part in conservation work and more, call 01785 619185 or email cannockchase@staffordshire.gov.uk

Lotto decision for park in December

A BID for £2.6million of lottery cash to improve Hednesford Park will be decided in December.

Cannock Chase Council has applied for the money from the heritage Lottery Fund. Lottery bosses will announce if they have been successful before the end of the year.

Under council plans, the park's pavilion would be extended on two storeys and a horticultural training area would be created, allowing volunteers to get involved in the park's upkeep.

Parking would improve and spaces increased to cater for the expected surge in park users. Railings, gates and pillars would be restored.

Draw

More than 4,000 people had their say on how the cash should be spent if it is awarded.

Questionnaires were sent out to households surrounding the park. Each respondent was entered into a prize draw and three winners have been selected at random with a BMX bike, skateboard and Amazon Kindle all up for grabs.

The prizes will be presented at the Halloween-themed Lantern Story Walk event at the park, off Rugeley Road, next Wednesday, October 31.

The walk will start at 4pm from the clock tower in the town centre and make its way to the park. Fairground rides, music and entertainment will be provided.

Councillor Christine Mitchell, culture and sport leader at the district council, will present the prizes to the three winners at the end of the lantern parade.

Festive bargains on offer at church

Snappy students' work in the frame

Front, Aimee Parker, with students from Wolgarston High School in Penkridge

FLEDGLING photographers at a Penkridge school have had their snaps selected for publication.

South Staffordshire Housing Association chose 10 images submitted by Wolgarston High School pupils for its annual report.

A picture of an autumn tree taken by 17-year-old Aimee Parker adorns the front cover. Those captured by her nine peers appear throughout the report, which is distributed to more than 5,950 residents. All 10 teenagers were awarded shopping vouchers for their efforts. Kevin Brown, assistant head of faculty for design at the Cannock Road school, said: "The students were excited to get involved in the project and were delighted to see their photos printed."

"It is great that their enthusiasm and hard work has been rewarded."

The other students to be published were 16-year-olds Kieran Lashford and Holly Haimes; Lauren Jones, Chelsey Rose, Ruth Huxley, Sarah Clarke and Anna Blanchard, all aged 15 and Alice Evans and Tom Eaton, who are both 17.

FOCUS ON RUGELEY

Enjoy taste of Italy as restaurant celebrates

AN ITALIAN will host a seven-course gourmet meal this weekend to celebrate the fourth anniversary of his restaurant.

Giuseppe Iaconi opened Il Marchigiano at The Plum Pudding, Rugeley Road, Armitage, in 2008 and is inviting the public to sample a feast of traditional Italian cooking on Saturday (October 27).

Mr Iaconi, born and raised in the Le Marche region of Italy, said: "It will be a special evening celebrating the restaurant's fourth anniversary. There are seven dishes on the menu."

"We hold evenings like this every month and they are always a big success. But we encourage people to book early as we always fill up."

Each guest will receive a free glass of champagne on arrival. The meal is priced at £30 at head.

To book, call 01543 490330.

Murder mystery for churchgoers

CHURCHGOERS can work out whodunnit in a murder mystery event in Rugeley.

The evening, called 'Just Desserts' takes place on November 28, from 7.30pm at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Hislop Road, Pear Tree estate. Tickets are £2.50, including refreshments. Call 01889 801494.

'Local celebrity' Jeanette to switch on Christmas lights

ORGANISERS say this year's Christmas lights in Rugeley will leave residents gasping after the town council began working with a leading supplier of festive lighting.

Over nine months, councillors have been organising the lights display with Blachere Illuminations to create what they say will be the best spectacle yet.

Naazlin Somani, Rugeley town clerk, said: "Some years, the lights haven't been as good as they could have been and when our contract with the previous supplier came to an end, we decided it was the perfect time to work with Blachere Illuminations."

"We want to show people that the town council care and from what I've seen so far, the lights are going to be amazing. They will really shock people."

Impact

In previous years, the lights have failed to make an impact on the community, but on Friday, November 30, the entire town will be illuminated when the lights are switched on by local personality Jeanette Dean.

Angi Cooney of the Rugeley Traders Association, said: "Janette Dean has done a lot for the community and that is why we have decided to highlight her and ask her to turn the lights on this year as one of our local celebrities."

by Charlotte Lilley

Trees in Market Square and Eaton Lodge are being funded by Rugeley Traders and a Santa's grotto will be assembled in Brook Square where children can go and visit Father Christmas for free.

Angi added: "We have been working closely with the town council to provide an even bigger and better display than last year. The town should look absolutely breathtaking."

"Again there will be a display on Globe Island and our Tree of Light will be in Brook Square."

The big switch on takes place in Market Square at 5.45pm and the town will be open for late night shopping.

Throughout the night there will be a funfair, street market, entertainers, school choirs and a jubilee firework display.

For more details about the spectacular event, call the town council on 01889 574074.

Busy making poppies for this year's appeal is Jackie Littlemore, of Rugeley

Littlemore time spent on poppies

PENSIONER Jackie Littlemore spends more time than most remembering our fallen soldiers.

Mrs Littlemore, of Rugeley, has dedicated hundreds of hours to the Royal British Legion's poppy appeal in the last four years, raking in £2,000 for the cause.

Former welfare officer Mrs Littlemore hand-crochets poppies in readiness for Remembrance Sunday in November.

This year she has already completed 450, with each taking up to an hour to make. She hopes to finish another 100 in the next few weeks.

"It all started when I did a dozen for a table top sale," said the 74-year-old mother-of-two. "They all went so I phoned the Royal British Legion and told them I was doing something which could make a bit of money for them."

"This year, I have put a little pearl teardrop on."

Mrs Littlemore wants to raise another £1,000 this year to take her fundraising total above £3,000. Anyone interested in a poppy should call 01889 585813.

Cooking up a treat to help put on carnival

A CHARITY bake-off and pampering evening will take place at the Brereton and Ravenhill parish hall on November 10.

Residents can enter cakes into a baking contest, with the option of selling them to raise money for the Bring Back Brereton Carnival appeal. They can also submit recipes for a community cookbook.

Holistic therapy and beauty treatments will be provided, including manicures, pedicures and head massages. Money raised will also go to the appeal.

Organiser Ruth Templeton, of Brereton & Ravenhill Association for Community Events (BRACE) said: "We can't wait to see what tasty samples people come along with."

The fundraiser will take place from 6.30-10pm with tickets available from the Co-Op on Redbrook Lane, Brereton, or on the door.

Santa in grotto at festive event

VISITORS to a festive fair in Rugeley can see Santa Claus in his grotto.

Christmas cards, crafts and gift ideas will all be on offer at the local charities Christmas fair on November 24 at St Augustine's Church, Station Road. It is being held from 10am to 1pm. Refreshments will be available.

Why have a conservatory when you can have an Orangery from £9,999

Imagine an elegant and comfortable room, a warm and bright space that is the envy of all. This is what an orangery will bring to your home. Relax in style on warm summer days and enjoy a feeling of comfort and warmth on long winter evenings.

Orangeries provide a unique multi-purpose living space for every home, from kitchen extension, living room, dining room or playroom. Our orangery uses the market leading Global roof with a well-engineered internal pel met framework, which is then plastered, giving the roof a perimeter ceiling all the way round. Within this perimeter roof you can choose to add down lighters or audio speakers, giving you the opportunity to personalise your new room.

The gutter line of the roof of the orangery is hidden from view by a decorative cornice that rises above the flat section and this cornice conceals the orangery gutter for a more attractive external appearance. A fully glazed conservatory might not be to everyone's taste, therefore the combination of traditionally built features and glazing of an orangery creates a more substantial and interesting effect.

Bucket-load of goals for young team

Players from Heath Hayes FC under-11s at the village's Tesco store ahead of their fundraising bag pack

A JUNIOR football team has bagged up groceries and the goals – making a promising start at 11-a-side football.

Heath Hayes under-11s began life in the Lichfield League Division 2 with a defeat, but have since won four league games on the trot – scoring 32 goals in the process. They now lie in second place in the league.

Heath Hayes latest victory saw them dispatch Rugeley Rangers 8-0, only a week after beating the same team by seven.

As part of the club's fundraising efforts, they spent a day bag-packing at Tesco and raised £433 which will go towards buying new wet-tops.

Service to honour dogs

A SERVICE to celebrate working dogs is taking place at Cannock Chase next month.

Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) is inviting working dogs and their owners to the remembrance service on Friday, November 9.

The annual service, now in its third year, has been inspired by Freda, a Dalmatian-type dog that was the New Zealand Rifles' mascot, when the regiment was stationed on Cannock Chase during the First World War. She died in 1918, while the regiment was training on Cannock Chase, and is buried there.

In memory of Freda, and dogs like her, the AONB is holding a service at her grave, which is off Chase Road, near Stafford.

Wreaths

Last year, 50 owners and handlers, along with 40 dogs, gathered at Freda's grave to take part in the ceremony. This included listening to readings and poems, and laying wreaths on the grave. Ruth Hytch, Cannock Chase AONB officer, said: "The efforts of our working dogs are sometimes forgotten, and so this is a chance to remember them and to thank them for their loyalty and service."

"Whether you are remembering the bravery of a military or police dog, or a missed service dog, everyone is welcome to come to this short service."

"We are also keen for any working dogs to be there, and we're sure they will enjoy a walk in the beautiful surroundings of Cannock Chase."

Award as almshouses saved from demolition

CENTURY-old almshouses in danger of being demolished have won an award after they were "miraculously" saved from the bulldozer.

The cottages were built 107 years ago in Brereton and Armitage, near Rugeley, to provide homes for those in need, but had fallen into disrepair and failed the Government's decent homes standard.

The properties, run by the Birch & Samson United Charities group, were damp and in need of major roofing repairs and new heating systems.

After two years of unsuccessful grant applications, the rescue work was enabled thanks to £220,000 from the Homes and Communities Agency.

Converted

Another £10,000 donation came from the Baron Davenport's Trust, with the trust itself making up the remaining £53,000.

The eight former bedsits - half in Brereton and the rest in Rugeley Road, Armitage - were gutted and converted into four bungalows. Residents moved out early last year, returning in time for Christmas.

Now the renovation work has won a 'highly commended' in the Almshouses Association annual awards judged by its patron the Prince of Wales, from the shortlist of 11 finalists across the UK.

Grandmother Brenda Bott, aged 58, is the longest-serving resident. She moved into Main Road, Brereton 20 years ago after she was left unable to cope with stairs at her Armitage flat after suffering a brain tumour.

"The cottages were in a deplorable state, with plaster coming off the walls. The refurbishment has been wonderful," she said.

NEW ALBUMS

Muse lay down the law

Muse – The 2nd Law

IT'S time for excess all areas as the Devonian powerhouse trio once again go over the top for an album that combines the melodic pomp of Queen with the orchestral flair of ELO and the lithe guitar rock of U2.

Singer Matthew Bellamy is at his most unrestrained, though a couple of songs feature the gentler tones of bassist Chris Wolstenholme (Save Me is lovely).

Madness is a cousin to Radio Gaga and Another One Bites The Dust, whilst Panic Station has a hint of the latter and Michael Jackson's Thriller. Olympic anthem Survival starts like Supertramp and then morphs into an epic with full-on choral bombast. Follow Me begins with the heartbeat of Bellamy's unborn child and becomes a glorious pop song.

The, on Unsustainable, Muse reactivate the Beastie Boys' Intergalactic robot and send it to stomp all over a ravaged planet.

The 2nd Law is mad, melodic and magnificent. Fans are anticipating something very special when Muse perform at Birmingham LG Arena on Tuesday, October 30.

The Killers – Battle Born
MORE synth driven than previous albums and not quite so instantly appealing, the Las Vegas band's fourth studio album does reward repeated listens. Battle Born – the name of their studios and the slogan on the Nevada state flag – has its fair share of anthemic rock songs given a smooth pop sheen.

Muse – exponents of the finest melodic pomp rock since the heyday of Queen

Highlights include the Springsteen-like Runaways and the stadium-friendly phone-waving Here With Me. These songs are built for big arenas and will be heard in them, including the LG Arena on Wednesday and Thursday, October 31 and November 1.

The XX – Coexist

THREE years on from their debut which won the Mercury Music Prize, the London trio have released another set of sparse songs about love, longing and loss, with atmospheric electronics and lonesome twangy guitar.

They are reminiscent of Everything But The Girl, particularly on the beat and steel pan-driven Reunion.

The interplay between Romy Madley-Croft and Oliver Sim has chemistry, lyrics sometimes like whispers on a pillow. It will be interesting to see how they recreate their intimate style on stage at Wolverhampton Civic Hall on December 12.

Mumford and Sons – Babel

THE fresh-faced sound of youthful British folk had enormous success with first album Sigh No More, and follow the same template with freewheeling banjos and a hint of melancholy from Marcus Mumford's gritty vocal.

That they've taken folk music to another level commercially is undeniable. They play the LG Arena on December 7.

Leon Burakowski

Sandi Thom – Flesh and Blood

SANDI Thom has a great voice for blues with a blend of Pat Benatar, Chrissie Hynde dusted with a smattering of Christina Aguilera. Add to this the Scottish singer/songwriter's many instrumental talents and her latest album is certainly one for any fan of the blues.

Thom is probably best known for her hit single I Wish I Was A Punk Rocker (With Flowers In My Hair). She kicks off this album with Help Me written by blues legend Sonny Boy Williamson to which she brings a real raw power.

On I Owe You Zero, the title song, I See The Devil In You and Big Ones Get Away – which features Buffy Saint Marie – Thom shows a more soulful side to her voice. She cranks up the funk for Stormy Weather and then goes back to good old slide guitar for Rise As One.

She is in concert at the Robin 2, Bilston, on Wednesday, November 7.

Rider hurt in collision

A MOTORCYCLIST was taken to hospital following a collision with a car in Hednesford.

Police are appealing for witnesses to the crash, which occurred just before 4pm on Sunday, October 21.

The motorcyclist, from Telford, was said to be in a stable condition after being airlifted to the University Hospital of North Staffordshire by air ambulance. He was in collision with a blue Nissan Micra at the junction of Broadhurst Green Road and Penkridge Bank Road.

Witnesses are asked to call Staffordshire Police on 101, quoting incident number 494 of October 21.

Making Wright moves as restaurant opens

A NEW McDonalds restaurant has opened its doors in Rugeley, bringing with it 90 jobs.

The £1.5m 110-seat fast food chain was officially launched in Power Station Road last Wednesday October 17, just off the Rugeley bypass, close to the Amazon distribution centre and complementing the forthcoming arrival of a new Tesco supermarket in the town.

For manager and Franchisee Doug Wright, it is his seventh restaurant since opening up his first in Lichfield 12 years ago. All have been financed in partnership with the Royal Bank of Scotland through its Funding for Lending scheme.

Response

The 47-year-old father-of-two said: "We have had a fantastic response to the launch of our new restaurant in Rugeley and received an overwhelming response to our job adverts which will create 90 new jobs."

An apprenticeship is also in place and Mr Wright said: "I am a local businessman and I am delighted we will be able to create this extra employment for the local job market."

David Gillespie, the Royal Bank of Scotland's bank's CEO for England and Wales, visited the new restaurant ahead of its opening.

He said: "I was very pleased to meet Doug and see first hand his growing business. I'm delighted that RBS, through Douglas's relationship manager, Jas Sandhu, has been able to use the Funding for Lending scheme to help provide the necessary funds for this expansion in Rugeley."

Tots try out new menu

NURSERY children in Cannock are enjoying a taste of being a food judge.

Youngsters from Happy Tots, at Orbital Plaza, have been taste testing the nursery's new winter menus – and have so far given all the meals a big thumbs up.

Manager Kate Hodges said: "We always provide parents with information about what their child has eaten each day – and the feedback on the new menus has been extremely positive so far."

Happy Tots scored a top five star rating in the council's 'Rate My Place' scheme at its last inspection. For more about Happy Tots, call 01543 509089

FASHION FACTORY DRESSED TO IMPRESS AND READY FOR REOPENING EVENT

Cannock's very own retail haven, Fashion Factory, has reopened this week, three months after closing its doors following the company going into administration.

The Wyrley Brook Park based business has undergone a shop floor transformation with the introduction of exclusive new lines in order to meet customer demand and encourage loyal shoppers back into the shop.

Fashion Factory owner Philip Yates is delighted to announce that they are back in business and looking forward to welcoming both regular and brand new customers through the doors in the coming months.

"It's a particularly exciting time for us here at Fashion Factory, we've gone back to basics and completely overhauled the shop's layout to create a more relaxed and spacious shopping experience for our customers" Mr Yates said.

"In the current economic climate, we needed to completely readdress our direction as a business and found that people were looking for quality and value above all else when it comes to shopping, which is essentially what we are all about.

"With the new look store, customers are now able to browse through the same quality fashion brands as before with the added benefit of fantastic gift and home ranges too.

"The in-store cafe has also been rebranded, with a great new menu and an upgrade in the quality of drinks served.

"We just want people to know that we are back, we are bigger and better than ever before and still Cannock's first stop when it comes to the ultimate shopping experience."

Despite the company's recent closure and the 30 redundancies made back in July, the store has since filled 40 new job opportunities, with 98% of the original staff returning to the store.

And to celebrate the reopening, Fashion Factory has organised a special launch event from 26th-27th October, in which there will be up to 20% off everything in store.

"The launch event is really just a way of thanking our customers for their continued support and giving people who have never visited us before a brilliant reason to see what we're all about," Phillip continued.

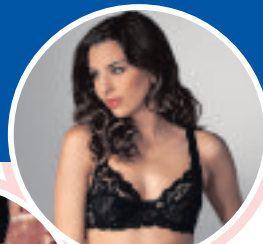

"We've had some great feedback from customers since reopening and hope to build on this initial success in the coming months."

Silence is golden as Boy entertains

The boy... and balloon

The Boy With Tape On His Face – More Tape, Slade Rooms, Wolverhampton

THE BOY has made a name for himself with his clever use of props – and had everyone in fits of laughter from the outset.

Fair play to the unsuspecting members of the public who were called up on stage – myself included – who it could be argued were the 'stars' of the show.

However, how many of them could create a duet with a pair of oven gloves, or bring John Lennon back to life with a crocodile clip and mop? The mime artist's bag of tricks included a coat hanger, a football and a pair of trousers and shoes which he ingeniously used to make a dancing puppet. One man was even turned into a bull by the simple use of a stethoscope, while a hair dryer came in handy for an impromptu game of golf.

He may not speak, but his act says it all. I'll never listen to Nena's 99 Red Balloons again in a hurry, though.

Mark Shipp

Queen of mean can still shock

Joan Rivers, Symphony Hall, Birmingham

THE veteran American comedienne is in her 80th year but age has not mellowed her, nor has it withered her but that's due to plastic surgery.

And at 79 she is enjoying a renaissance thanks to satellite TV shows Fashion Police, a bitch fest' at the expense of celebrities, and her own reality series with daughter Melissa.

Almost nothing is off limits for Joan's outrageous comments (she avoids politics). A few audience members walked out during her expletive-strewn hour on the stage. Though really what did they expect? The Queen of Mean has been doing her 'I hate...' schtick for around half a century now.

So the blind, the deaf, stroke victims, the entire populations of Mexico and China, the elderly (oh the irony), the thin, the fat, the good, the bad and the ugly got the Joan treatment.

Comments

Even an audience largely made up of her Joan rangers (as the fans are known) went a little quiet when she turned to paedophilia, senior citizen sex and concentration camps.

And most of her comments about famous celebrities are unprintable, particularly her final one about a new member of the royal family.

She remains wickedly funny and has the virtue of making herself the butt of her own gags, unlike Frankie Boyle, but I did detect a little more rambling and a little less snap in her quick-fire New York style of patter than on previous visits.

It was called the 'Now or Never Tour... don't wait this could be IT'. She reflected on her mortality in typical style, telling us how popular we would be with a story about seeing Joan Rivers drop dead on stage.

The comedy scene – and America's surgeons – would miss her.

Leon Burakowski

Katie is sadly missing that 'wow' factor

Katie Melua, Symphony Hall, Birmingham

IT'S remarkable that at 28, Katie Melua has slightly more than a 10 year musical career already under her belt.

But while the Georgian-born singer's performance was solid, it was also somehow basic, clinical and lacking any real spark or wow factor.

She came on stage dressed in black and red, opening with a track from the album Gold In Them Hills.

Katie mixed it up with some of her classic hits, such as Closest Thing To Crazy, and songs from her new album Secret Symphony. She also brought in rock, blues and jazz anthems. As at her concert in the city last year, she kept perhaps her biggest hit to date, Nine Million Bicycles, for the encore.

Danny Farragher

A tenacious audience for Black humour

Tenacious D, Civic Hall, Wolverhampton

THERE was a certain tenacity about fans wishing to see Hollywood legend Jack Black. The Nacho Libre and School of Rock star was at the venue with his comic buddy Kyle Gass.

It was hard to gauge what would become of the 'Mock Rock' group, but 10 years since their first album, they're still going strong – and evidently still popular as nearly 3,000 people would testify.

The duo are on the road to promote their latest album Rize of the Fenix.

There was material from previous works thrown in including the best-known songs Tribute – and a cover of The Who's Pinball Wizard.

Comic pals are set for 'home' gig

MANY fans of comedy trio Pappy's might trace the group's origins back to their first gigs above a London pub in the early noughties.

But for two of the members, Ben Clark and Thomas Parry, the seeds of laughter were first sown watching Marx Brothers films together in their Wolverhampton school days.

And with their latest tour, 'Last Show Ever', returning to the city's Slade Rooms on Saturday (October 27), it is a perfect time for them to reflect on where it all began.

Enjoyed

Tom, who grew up in Moleen Road, Oxley, joined Central Youth Theatre, in Whitmore Reans, when he was about 15. Ben, of from Woodfield Avenue, Penn, joined a year or two later.

"They very quickly saw that we enjoyed doing comedy together, so they started letting From then on we always tried to do physical comedy," said Tom.

The pair were in their early 20s when they met third member Matthew Crosby and began performing open mic nights together in London.

Saturday should be a comforting reminder of home comforts for Tom and Ben. Tom said: "I can't wait. It's always such a thrill to perform in Wolverhampton. I'm really looking forward to performing it back home."

Fans can also catch the Last Show Ever on November 23 at Birmingham's Glee Club Studio.

Laura's alter-ego leads to Frisky pop double act

POP comedy duo Frisky & Mannish bring their unique show to Wolverhampton's Wulfrun Hall next week.

Both aged 27, Laura Corcoran and Matthew Floyd Jones met at Oxford University and collaborated on theatrical productions and wrote comedy songs for the Oxford Revue. But it was only after filling in for a 10-minute slot at a charity gig four years ago that the two first performed as the act we know and love today.

"We were just doing simple songs but had a good reception so we thought it was something we could push," said Laura, aka Frisky.

So what are they all about? Laura said she had grown up on a diet of Radio 2, so the Carpenters would be as relevant to her as Professor Green. So, imagine the rapper's take on Calling Occupants of Interplanetary Craft and you have an idea of what Frisky and Mannish are all about.

However, Laura said they didn't just put any old songs together. "They have to be ubiquitous, songs that people will have heard of before we perform them," she said, citing examples as Noel Coward works sung as Lily Allen would perform them. Or Meat Loaf in the style of a little child.

Books

The duo take their name from the Byron poem Don Juan and the line 'Lady Fitz-Frisky, and Miss Maevia Mannish. Both longed extremely to be sung in Spanish'. Laura said: "As an English student I had all these books that of course I hadn't read. I happened to open them up on that page. We were Lady Fitz-Frisky, and Miss Maevia Mannish but that didn't really suit Matthew."

On tour since September 12, she said audiences had so far proved receptive. "We try to have a lot of fun with the audience. Most of them know what we're about and there's a varied age range."

Laura's father is a musical theatre actor, her great-grandma was a Tiller Girl and her brother is also a musician. She said: "I don't think there was any doubt I would be performing in some way."

Frisky and Mannish are at the Wulfrun Hall on Thursday, November 1. Tickets are £15 on 0870 320 7000 or at www.wolvescivic.co.uk

NEWS

Volunteers get hands dirty

VOLUNTEERS from the Prince's Trust, a charity that helps people find work, got their hands dirty at a countryside area used for community projects.

Thirteen trust members aged between 16 and 25 mucked in to clear disabled-access paths at the Chase Aqua Rural Enterprise (CARE) in Wolsley Bridge.

They also helped weave and trim the organisation's 10ft willow dome structure, which is used for storytelling, bird-watching and other activities.

CARE is a non-profit organisation that provides educational training and work placements for adults and young people, as well as therapeutic rural activities for all ages.

Manager Carol Parkes said: "They did a really good job and were a great group to work with, bright and cheery and nothing fazed them."

"They've done a massive job maintaining the dome. We've had a particularly wet year so it had grown massively - it really was quite a task. They showed great teamwork skills too."

The Prince's Trust's Team project was run through Stoke-on-Trent College. It aims to give unemployed people the skills and confidence they need to find a job.

During the 12-week course, young people volunteer in their local community, complete a two-week work experience placement and get support to help them find work.

Team manager Tom Perry said: "It went really well. They all got an awful lot done and it was very impressive. The place looked a lot better afterwards."

"We've had rave reviews. I've even got one lad who wants to go back and volunteer there. They were all extremely enthusiastic and did a great job."

Couple in town centre attack to be sentenced

A MAN and a woman who beat a man unconscious following an argument in Cannock town centre have had their case transferred to the crown court.

Claire Binnell, aged 27 of Pye Green Road, Cannock, and Jason Binnell, 33, of Cliff Rock Road, Rednal, Birmingham, both admitted the assault on Ryan Poole in February.

Cannock magistrates heard on Monday that the argument started in the town centre and they followed Mr Poole through St Luke's churchyard and along Avon Road. They left him lying on the footpath with facial cuts and bruises then ran off.

The pair will be sentenced at the crown court on a date to be fixed. Both were granted unconditional bail.

Drop-in debt advice

David Barrow with, from left; Jonathan and Esther Burd and Councillor Jeff Ashley promoting the new drop-in debt advice service at Littleton Green School

A CHARITY in Huntington is running a free confidential drop-in service for anyone with money worries or debt issues.

Penk Moneywise is supported by South Staffordshire Council and every Wednesday, for two hours, will advise people on how to manage their money.

Adviser Jonathan Burd said: "We offer advice, support and solutions to debt according to your personal circumstances. For example we can negotiate with your creditors on your behalf."

"All our advice and support is completely free. There are no hidden costs and we will continue to help and support you for as long as you need us. Our friendly, confidential and impartial service is offered to anyone regardless of background, circumstance or belief."

Drop-in sessions are held at 10.30am at Huntington Children's Centre, Littleton Green Community School. For more information, telephone 07506577996.

Interest in 'cash for toilets' offer

THREE shopkeepers in Hednesford have come forward to open their toilets to the public in exchange for council cash.

Traders could earn £100 a month under an incentive scheme launched by Cannock Chase Council to ease a shortage of public toilets.

The council has set aside a total of £10,000 for the scheme in Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley this financial year. Hednesford Traders' Association 2011, said there was already considerable business interest.

Unnamed

Traders' group chairman Simon Orme said he would consider opening the toilets at his salon, his firm SOS Hairdressing's, to the public, while Belles Coffee House, also in Market Street, and one unnamed shop were also keen.

"The main reason we like the idea is that it gives people in the town access to a toilet," he said. "Anything which keeps custom in the centre is a good thing - I think that is the main selling point for us."

"We believe this incentive scheme is a good idea, as the opportunity to open new public toilets in the town seems unlikely because of the costs involved."

Mr Orme said the traders' body was ready to open talks with the district council over the initiative.

The town centre only currently has toilets in the library following the closure of public toilets on June 1.

A scheme which saw temporary toilets opened on the ground floor of the Lightworks shopping complex ended seven months ago.

Sequence dance aids Alzheimer's

Green Bay date at the Tackeroo

THE UK's leading Green Day tribute band is performing at the Tackeroo in Hedgesford next weekend.

The Green Bay concert, on Friday, November 2, coincides with the release of three new Green Day albums. It starts at 9pm in Bracken Close, Brindley Heath, with support from Flatline Stereo, promoting their new release Rock And Roll, Punk And Soul. Admission is £5.

Those dancing feet are heading for 42nd Street

WEST End stars Marti Webb and David Willetts will be leading the cast when classic American musical 42nd Street rolls into Wolverhampton next week.

This is the latest revival of the ever-popular 1980s musical based on a movie from the golden age of Hollywood, telling the story of Peggy Sawyer, a chorus girl who suddenly becomes star of a Broadway show.

'Superstars' at New Alex

SUPERSTAR winner Ben Forster, who wowed audiences in Jesus Christ Superstar, has been cast as Brad in Richard O'Brien's Rocky Horror Show, at Birmingham New Alexandra Theatre, from January 28 to February 2.

It features X Factor singer and former Birmingham student Rhidian as Rocky. Superstar runner-up Rory Taylor stars in Rent, alongside Wicked star Kerry Ellis, at the New Alex for just one night on April 30.

X Factor finalist Marcus Collins plays Seaweed Stubbs when Hairspray is staged at Birmingham Hippodrome next summer.

The show features such songs as Keep Young And Beautiful, I Only Have Eyes For You, Lullaby of Broadway, We're In The Money and, the famous title song.

It conjures up the heyday of the spectacular musical with tap-dancing chorus lines, glamorous costumes and Busby Berkeley style choreography.

Jessica Punch plays Peggy, the young actress who takes over when the veteran leading lady, played by Marti Webb, is indisposed. David Willetts is the hard-pressed director.

42nd Street is at the Grand from Tuesday, October 30, to November 3.

Another leading West End lady, Ruthie Henshall, showcases her talents in her afternoon Sound of Musicals concert, from 3pm, on Sunday, November 4, at Birmingham Town Hall.

BGT star in concert

BRITAIN'S Got Talent finalist Julian Smith performs at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre this weekend.

The saxophonist earned 700,000 telephone votes to become a runner-up in the 2009 TV series. He has since been invited to play for the Prime Minister and performed for Prince Charles. He has also duetted with Kenny G and toured with other BGT finalists.

The Prince of Wales Centre date is on Saturday (October 27) from 7.30pm, with tickets priced at £16.

Irish singer Dominic Kirwan will change the mood at the Church Street venue next Wednesday, October 31.

Regarded as one of the Emerald Isle's finest entertainers, he brings his brand new show 'Live and Personal' to the theatre. Tickets are £17.50. Call 01543 578762.

Rocking sounds of music legends

MUSIC lovers can relive the days of rock 'n' roll in Rugeley early next month.

Brill Cream and Rocking Dreams will recapture the sounds of Bill Haley, Chuck Berry, Eddie Cochran, Connie Francis, Brenda Lee and others at the Lea Hall Social Club, Sandy Lane.

It gets under way at 8.30pm on Friday, November 2, with tickets priced at £5.

Blaze back as rockers recall the glory days

HEAVY metal band Wolfsbane will be rocking the Robin 2 in Bilston on Saturday, as part of their Save The World Tour.

The veteran rockers from Staffordshire - who were signed to Rick Rubin's Def American label - will be selling a limited edition CD at the gig. Recorded in 1993, 'The Lost Tapes (A Secret History)' contains an early version of their third album, plus extra tracks.

The band formed in 1984 but singer Blaze Bayley left to join Iron Maiden 10 years later. Following the release of their eponymous third album, the band realised they had lost their live studio recording of it.

Guitarist Jase Edwards said: "It's thrilling to have found it again and it sounds even better than we remembered it."

Blaze is back with Jase, bassist Jeff Hatley and drummer Steve 'Danger' Ellett, reunited at the Robin 2. Tickets £13.50 on the door.

Merlin
BBC1, 8.20pm
Morgana is back, and it's clear she's not mellowing just yet. Her mission is simple: 'I seek what's rightfully mine. I seek the throne of Camelot - and for that I need an army,' she remarks, setting the scene for this helping of sword and sorcery. Katie McGrath is clearly having a great time as the scenery-chewing antagonist, while James Fox lends his usual degree of class and gravitas to the proceedings. Thrown into the mix are a black-cloaked witch, a name scratched on a rock, and an orchestra who seem to think they're scoring the latest James Bond epic.

Andrew Marr

Andrew Marr's History of the World BBC1, 9pm

You've got to hand it to the journalist and political commentator Andrew Marr, he's approached his latest task – to chart the entire history of the world in a few hour-long documentaries – with aplomb. He's had a lot to cover, and for reasons of practicality we would have forgiven him had he brushed over a few facts – yet so far, his series has been pretty comprehensive. This week, he turns his attentions to the age of revolution between the 17th and 18th centuries, when the War of Independence raged in America.

Pick of the Week

Star-studded awards show honours heroes

Carol Vorderman is one of telly's most talked-about celebrities. If she's not putting the world to rights on Loose Women, she's plastered all over the papers because of her ability to perfectly carry off some designer dress or other.

But tonight she, along with a whole host of other famous faces, is taking a back seat for this particularly glamorous annual awards do.

Of course, as usual, she's on presenting duties at The Daily Mirror's Pride of Britain Awards 2012 (ITV1, 8pm), held at London's Grosvenor House.

But for one night only, nobody's interested in the who's-who of the audience or the presenting line-up – the spotlight is well and truly turned on the awe-inspiring members of the British public who have gone over and above in the community, and displayed admirable acts of selflessness.

And this year, the ceremony comes with a promise of being bigger than ever. To name but a few, we'll be hearing the stories of a six-year-old girl who risked her own life to save her sister from the path of a runaway car, a terminally ill teen who has touched millions of people around the world with her blog, parents who raised £1.6million to fulfil their dying son's wish, and a young woman who donated a kidney in a moving legacy to her murdered mum.

Plus, Olympic hero Mo Farrah will be stepping in to honour the inspirational teacher who encouraged him to change paths as a tearaway teen.

He's now a double gold medalist, so the teacher obviously did something right.

Ms Vorderman explains why she's so proud to be part of such an amazing night. "It's always such a great pleasure hosting Pride of Britain. For me, it is the only awards show on TV that really matters because the winners are real people who could not be more deserving."

"Over the past 13 years, there have been so many heart-warming, inspiring stories of people who have contributed so much to this country. It's a chance for us to celebrate Britain at its best and I'm not surprised it has become the biggest national event of its kind."

Prince Charles takes part in the event every year, and speaks just as highly of the awards ceremony. He says: "The Pride of Britain Awards are, I believe, a unique way to celebrate the achievements of some truly remarkable people, and hear something of their inspiring and humbling stories."

"These marvellous awards remind all of us that, despite what one might think, throughout this country there are extraordinary people living selfless lives, showing unbelievable courage and caring for their families, neighbours and communities."

Ashleigh and beloved dog Pudsey of Britain's Got Talent fame are among those taking part.

Along with BGT judges David Walliams and Amanda Holden, while luminaries such as Stephen Fry, Prime Minister David Cameron and David Beckham will all be present to celebrate the nation's heroes.

Have your hankies at the ready and be prepared to be uplifted for one of the most moving shows of the week.

Best of the Rest

Monday

50 Years of Bond Cars: A Top Gear Special BBC2, 9pm

As the name suggests, what we have here is a one-hour tribute to half a century of James Bond cars. It comes with presenter Richard Hammond as standard, features plenty of classic clips from 007 epics, and the sort of motors that can leave viewers drooling. For example, who could forget the Aston Martin from Goldfinger, or the submersible Lotus from The Spy Who Loved Me? No 007 tribute would be complete without Daniel Craig's input, and he was thrilled to take an old favourite out for a spin for new movie Skyfall. "It's no secret we've got the old DB5 in this, and the buttons are all there, so I get to play with them," he smiles.

New Tricks

BBC1, 9pm

Cast your mind back to the beginning of this series of New Tricks – Jack Halford was still in the UCOS fold, none of the team had heard of Steve McAndrew, and high-ranking Whitehall official Stephen Fisher wanted the team to solve a murder that took place over a century ago. Well, it doesn't look like Jack is ever coming back, but in the latest episode of the current series, Tim McInnerny reprises his role as Fisher. It turns out he's been targeted by an assassin.

Tuesday

The Paradise

BBC1, 9pm

There's a little bit of excitement in the department store this week, which makes a nice change from the usual doom and gloom. When exotic birds arrive to be sold at the Paradise, it brightens up Pauline's day – so much so that she offers to man the counter in a bid to impress Sam. However, the good moods, of course, don't last too long, as one of the birds makes its escape, leaving Pauline panic-stricken and Sam determined to help her rectify her mistake before Moray hears what's happened.

Operation Iceberg

BBC2, 9pm

So, what do we know about icebergs? Well, they're usually absolutely massive, are made of ice, and one was instrumental in the sinking of the Titanic. Oh yeah, and then melting due to global warming isn't a good thing. Well, you're about to learn a whole lot more thanks to this two-part documentary in which naturalist Chris Packham, ocean expert Helen Czerski, diver Andy Torbet, cameraman Doug Allan and doctor Chris Van Tulleken embark on an expedition to the Arctic to trace the life cycle of one of these giants of the seas.

Wednesday

Brazil with Michael Palin

BBC1, 9pm

If you say the words 'Michael Palin in Brazil' to any discerning film fan, they will immediately picture the former Python portraying a sinister torturer Jack Lint in Terry Gilliam's 1985 sci-fi fantasy. So far, the actor has proved far friendlier in this travelogue series. Tonight, he travels by river from the country's northern border with Venezuela to the capital, Brasilia, and while en route he visits indigenous tribe the Yanomami. He learns of a threat to their hunter-gatherer lifestyle posed by the encroachment of the modern world.

Thursday

Autumnwatch 2012

BBC2, 8pm

When it comes to the great outdoors, Chris Packham is your go-to man. What he doesn't know about the world's nature, probably isn't all that worth knowing. Of course, Chris is in good company in his hosting duties here as he takes position alongside the ever-smiley Michaela Strachan and Martin Hughes-Games. There's plenty to report back from last night's stake-out, giving us an insight into the expertly concealed world of nocturnal animals.

Young Apprentice

BBC1, 8pm

It's a sign of just how long the 'grown-up' Apprentice has been on the air that some people complained that last series was predictable, despite the fact that it was eventually won by a part-time wrestler called Ricky

Brazil with Michael Palin, Wednesday, BBC1, 9pm

Martin. So perhaps this new series of Young Apprentice will keep the moaners quiet, because while the previous runs may have shown that Britain's teens have apparently mastered the art of power-dressing, they haven't yet learned all the business clichés spouted by the adults.

Friday

Jonathan & Charlotte

ITV1, 9pm

Even though it's The X Factor that's making the headlines at the moment, the likes of Rylan, Ella Henderson, Lucy Spraggan and co aren't the only potential new singing stars to be unearthed during 2012. This year's Britain's Got Talent introduced us to Essex teenagers Jonathan and Charlotte who, despite being pipped in the final by a dancing dog, have gone on to sign a reported £1million record deal. Here, cameras follow the duo as they get used to their newfound fame.

Me and Mrs Jones

BBC1, 9.30pm

Sarah Alexander knows a good sitcom script when she sees one. She's previously delighted us with turns in Coupling and Green Wing, and has once again proved to be fantastic in this fabulous comedy as a single mum whose complicated life sees her juggling love, affection, sex and motherhood while coping with an ex-husband, one grown-up son, two young daughters and two male admirers – with a 20-year age gap. This week, everyone gathers at the bar to celebrate Alfie's birthday, where Gemma finds herself persuading Billy to start dating another woman.

There are magic deals to be had at halloween

MILLER Homes West Midlands is reminding buyers in the region of the bewitching offers it has available this Halloween to make moving an affordable treat.

The housebuilder is currently offering a range of incentives to make the buying process as flexible as possible and to cater for all budgets.

Paul Walters, regional sales manager for Miller Homes in the West Midlands, said:

"We often see a surge of interest around Halloween as it's the ideal time to buy to make sure that you can be in your new home for the start of the new year."

"It therefore seems like the ideal time to remind buyers of the options available to them to help them get onto the property ladder, to buy a bigger property or to downsize. There's no magic or witchcraft involved as these offers are all designed to make purchasing as easy and affordable as possible."

Amongst Miller Homes' current purchase incentives are:

- NewBuy - this Government-backed scheme allows a home to be purchased with only a small deposit of 5-10 per cent. Participating lenders then provide a 90-95 per cent loan to value mortgage for those who meet the qualifying criteria.

- FirstBuy - designed to help first time buyers into affordable home ownership, FirstBuy allows qualifying buyers to purchase 100 per cent of their chosen home by paying up to 80 per cent of the value now, with both Miller Homes and the Government equally funding the remaining 20 per cent in the form of an equity loan.

- MiWay - Miller Homes' very own equity loan scheme, allowing eligible buyers to purchase 100 per cent of their home whilst only needing to find finance for 85 per cent. Purchasers receive a loan from Miller Homes for up to 15 per cent of the purchase price of their selected property, leaving them to arrange a mortgage for the more affordable remaining amount.

- Home Exchange - allows buyers to swap their old home for a brand new Miller property. For those meeting the qualifying criteria, Miller Homes will buy the property based on independent valuations and take full responsibility for the marketing of the house, allowing buyers to move into their new home in as little as four weeks. Miller Homes has a number of developments in the West Midlands, including Littleton Green in Cannock, Miller Point in Coventry and Miller Central in Birmingham.

Miller Homes sales adviser Vicky Baker highlights Miller Homes' bewitching offers with Grace, aged six, and Emily Dillon-Pearson, four

Time to get home in shape for winter

NOW is a good time for homeowners to 'health check' their homes before the winter weather, according to NHBC (National House-Building Council).

It is the UK's leading warranty provider and standards setting body for new build homes.

People living in houses built in the last 10 years will typically have to deal with less maintenance, as the build quality and energy efficiency of new homes today is superior to that of older properties.

NHBC has worked to raise the construction standards of new homes and provide protection for new homeowners, with its flagship Buildmark warranty covering more than 80 per cent of new homes built in the UK, giving homeowners assurance and redress if anything goes wrong.

Whether your home is new or old, NHBC advises all homeowners to carry out a yearly review of the property, to keep everything in order and protect your investment.

Items worth checking are:

Internal

Heating system: This is also a good time to bleed radiators, to get rid of air pockets, and to have your annual boiler service, to ensure the system is working to its best performance and safety. Contact a Gas Safe registered installer to carry out an annual check now.

Smoke detectors: If run on batteries, these should be checked and replaced if necessary. All detectors should be replaced after 10 years.

Home security: Check the locks on all doors and windows, to ensure they are in full working order.

Plumbing: Dripping pipes and taps waste vast amounts of water and can also create significant internal Clearing gutters will prevent blockages that can lead to water damage damage. It may be a simple repair such as replacing a washer for a new one, so check your system thoroughly and if necessary, contact a qualified plumber to make repairs.

External

Roofing: Look at your roof from the outside, to see if any tiles are cracked or have slipped; if so these will need replacing by a professional roofer.

Solar Panels: Should be self cleaning, however to maintain efficiency, any debris that has accumulated should be removed if this can be done safely. (Roof mounted equipment is fragile and should be treated in accordance with manufacturers guidelines)

Guttering: Check for damage and clear away blockages. Blockages can lead to water damage, so make sure guttering is cleared at least once a year. For safety reasons, this should be carried out by a professional.

Woodwork: This needs preserving. Timber windows and doors need repainting every three to five years.

Garden fencing: This provides your home with security and privacy, so it is important to check garden fencing for any damage and maintain its good condition.

A quick home health check will identify areas that need attention and catch problems at an early stage. Carrying out regular maintenance ensures a home is kept in good condition, making it more pleasant to live in, more energy efficient and cheaper to run, and increasing its residual value.

Further advice on property maintenance and other issues can be found in NHBC's publication, A Guide to your new home - a practical guide to looking after your new home, free at www.nhbc.co.uk/homeowners

Prices for the Volvo V40 start at £22,295 and are available for delivery from next January

Volvo takes a fresh look at groundbreaking V40s

VOLVO Car UK has announced the pricing of the all-new Volvo V40 R-Design and Volvo V40 Cross Country.

Starting from £22,295 and £22,595 respectively, Volvo is now able to offer both a more sports inspired and a more rugged looking take on the V40. The V40 R-Design has taken cues from its R-Design stablemates in the rest of the range, with a re-profiled front bumper and rear diffuser, five-spoke 17" Ixon wheels, silver matt door mirrors, unique R-Design embossed nubuck upholstery, sports floor mats, sports steering wheel and pedals.

In addition to this, as standard, the V40 R-Design benefits from a TFT crystal display screen with unique blue colouring, illuminated gear-knob, unique R-Design aluminium trim and vertical LED day-running lights.

Those wanting the ultimate in sports luxury can upgrade to the R-Design Lux, complementing the standard specification with active bending xenon headlights with cleaning system, rain sensor, leather-faced R-Design embossed seats, cruise control, keyless start and rear theatre lighting.

The V40 R-Design is available in the striking launch colour, Rebel Blue, unique to R-Design, along with six other colours.

Emissions

Prices start from £22,295 for the D2 R-Design, still benefiting from class leading CO2 emissions of 94g/km, up to the T5 Geartronic R-Design Lux Nav, available from £31,390.

The V40 Cross Country is Volvo's answer to those customers that want a small 5-door hatchback but with a more "off-road" and rugged look. As standard, the Cross Country SE is offered with autofolding door mirrors with ground lights and black mirror covers, 16" alloy wheels, rain sensor, textile/T-Tec upholstery, tread plates and silver roof rails.

The Cross Country can be further enhanced by specifying the Cross Country Lux version. This includes the ample specification of the SE, plus leather-faced upholstery, active bending xenon headlights, 17" alloy wheels, LED day-running lights, rear reading and theatre lighting.

The V40 Cross Country is available from £22,595 for the D2 Cross Country SE, up to the T5 Geartronic Cross Country Lux Nav with All-Wheel Drive, from £33,875.

Both models are available to order now and first customer deliveries will start to take place in January 2013.

Seventh heaven to drive the new Golf

WHEN a car designer tells you the fuel filler flap is "rather special" it's not hard to deduce that many, many man hours have been sweated over the car this little metal cover is attached to.

The car in question is the latest VW Golf, seventh in a line that stretches back 38 years and more than 29 million cars. So yes, you could say getting the Golf right is important for the people in the design department.

And everyone within Volkswagen itself, for that matter.

A quarter of all new VWs sold in Europe are Golfs; in Britain it's more still - almost one in three.

So no wonder VW treads carefully when it's time for a new one (it arrives here in January).

To many eyes this latest Golf (Mk VII) is the best looking of the lot, and still very obviously a Golf.

Back to the same designer quoted above: it's important you can tell you're looking at a Golf (any Golf) from 200 yards away.

It's a marketing virtue enjoyed by few other cars, with the Porsche 911 and Range Rover on our designer's short list.

Volkswagen is proud of lots of its vital new baby's features, but cutting up to 100 kilos from a car that's longer and wider than before, and rather roomier for people and luggage is top of the list.

This slimming regime means better performance, improved economy and lower emissions. A useful 23 kilos, the weight of a well stuffed holiday suitcase, has been shaved from the body alone, but VW says clever design has left it stronger and safer than ever.

By Ian Donaldson

vehicle ahead and suspension with five driver-selected settings. And talking of settings, this new Golf rides quite beautifully, subtly levelling out the sometimes bumpy Sardinian roads chosen to show off the newcomer.

Add in a quality interior that makes you wonder why anyone would choose a dearer new Audi A3 (a fine car in its latest guise, but a new Golf underneath) when they go shopping for a classless hatchback.

The new Golf goes on sale here in January, costing from £16,330 for the entry level 1.2 litre S to £24,625 for the range topping GT 2.0 litre TDI 150 with the quite excellent DSG automatic gearbox.

The price is right – Hyundai are planning to produce a sub £20,000 Veloster Turbo

Korean giant aiming at turbo-charged Veloster

HYUNDAI is planning an entry-level Veloster Turbo targeted at a list price of less than £20,000, it has been confirmed.

A version called the Turbo SE (Special Equipment) recently went on sale for £21,995, fitted as standard with a huge kit list that includes leather seats, climate control, satnav and 18in two-tone alloy wheels.

However, a Hyundai UK insider has revealed that a new version of the '1+2-door' car is on the way, with some of the Turbo SE's kit removed, such as satellite navigation and leather seats, and a list price at least £2,000 lower.

Superfluous

The aim is reported to be to maintain as much of the functional equipment as possible, losing only superfluous luxury items.

The key visual features such as the body kit, longer spoiler and 18in alloys are set to stay, unless the alloy wheels need to be downsized to visually differentiate the two versions. A final decision has not yet been taken.

A turbocharged engine has brought new verve and dynamism to the unusual Korean design, and it is hoped that following the flagship Turbo SE, a cheaper model will help to expand the model's appeal and affordability.

Further details are expected by March next year.

Attractive offers are launched on Alfa Romeos

The Alfa MiTo 1.3diesel 85bhp Sprint is available for as little as £169 a month

CHRISTMAS is set to come early for anyone looking at a new Alfa Romeo as the Italian firm has introduced new offers across its range.

New finance packages for both the sporty supermini Alfa MiTo and the stylish and practical Alfa Giulietta are now available, starting at £169 per month.

The Alfa MiTo 1.3 Diesel 85bhp Sprint is offered at £169 a month with deposit, while the five-door Alfa Giulietta 1.6 Diesel 105bhp Lusso is available from just £199 a month plus deposit (for business customers only).

Alfa's autumn deal is doubly attractive for MiTo customers as the 1.3 Diesel Sprint is both congestion charge and road tax-free.

All models in the Alfa Romeo range boast five-star Euro NCAP crash safety ratings.

For full terms and conditions, visit www.alfaromeo.co.uk or call 0845 8700147.

Bad Credit - CCJ's - No problem

By Ian Donaldson

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the first Ford Cortina, a car that went on to sell in millions (more than 2.8 million, to be precise), until production ceased in 1982.

Rollover

Without power assistance, the steering feels locked solid at a standstill but eases off from walking pace. You have to wind your own windows (shocking!) and you'll search in vain for air conditioning. None of which matters a jot. The world's a lovely place at 55mph, sitting on a seat more lounge than hip-hugger.

And the queue building up behind will be past at the next straight bit of road.

SPORT

Hayes run of success comes to abrupt halt

Kirby Muxloe 4 Heath Hayes 1
INJURY-HIT Hayes' recent good run came to a bruising end against a side whose cynical tactics did them no credit at all.

Things started well for the visitors as they took an early lead when Dave Waple was brought down in the box and Lee Smith converted the resulting penalty. But the home side began to control the midfield and equalised after 35 minutes, Elliot Pacey firing home following a well-worked opening.

Craig Hancox bought a good save out of Tom Holyoak but it was the home side who finished the opening half the stronger.

Kirby took the lead on 50 minutes when a Stuart Verral cross was headed home at the far post by Bret Darby.

Hayes had Lee Smith sent off for retaliation after being brought down by Tom Hill. They then had John Littler carried off as the game boiled over.

Stuart Verral increased the home side's lead on 75 minutes and, to rub salt in the wounds, Hill added a fourth. The young Hayes side showed fight and Kieron Northwood missed a chance and substitute Leadun Dunley came close to a debut goal.

Two Kinsey goals settle Shenstone

Madeley White Star Ladies 0 Shenstone Ladies 8

DESPITE the scoreline, Shenstone gave a scrappy first-half performance and only settled down after two trademark long-range goals from Jodie Kinsey.

A further goal by Ellie Busby gave them a 3-0 lead at the break.

Shenstone's football flowed in the second half as Ellie Busby and Sophie Wilding (2) found the net alongside two splendid individual goals by Jade Arber.

Hednesford United Girls U15 0 Wyrley Pumas U15 0

This was a close-fought but scrappy match throughout. Katie Cox went close for Hednesford in the second half but her effort was cleared off the line.

Hednesford require new players from school years nine or 10. Call 07969 846423.

Dragoons roaring as they fire in eight

Burntwood Dragons U18 8 Hednesford Town U10 1

THE visitors enjoyed the better of the first period and scored when Kai Reeve skipped through two challenges and produced a confident finish.

The second half saw the Dragons ring the changes and gain momentum. The goals began to flow with Jack Castro scoring twice, Alex Tisdell bagging a hat-trick and Jack Taylor, Tommy Dace and Sam Churchley also on the mark.

Rugeley Rangers U9 3 Atherstone Rangers U4 4

Rugeley came up against a strong Atherstone team. The visitors took the lead early on before Alfie Gladwin equalised from long range.

Atherstone then went on to score three more goals. At 4-1 down, Rangers came to life with the outstanding Gladwin scoring two more goals to complete his hat-trick. Rugeley goalkeeper Evan Downs was voted man of the match.

Burntwood Dragons Reds U9 0 Rugeley Rangers Lions U2 2

A first-ever goal for the club for Callum Corrigan and a fine solo effort from Billy Mackenzie claimed all three points for Rugeley. An excellent triple save earned Dan Walton the man of the match award.

Church Farm U9 5 AFC Lichfield U9 3

Church Farm returned to winning ways with a nailbiting win over AFC Lichfield.

Farm ended the brighter in a close game. Two goals from Harry Buzzard, plus strikes from Fin Sweeney, Harry Steele and Thomas Mayne secured the three points with Mayne his side's man of the match.

Church Farm U11 5 Sheffield U11 3

Church Farm extended their run of victories with Sam Gardner and Owen Williams each bagging two goals, the latter on debut in a man of the match performance.

Callum Smith also found the target for Church Farm.

Sportsco Saints U12 2 Wyrley Juniors Utd U12 3

Wyrley won a good game by the odd goal in five.

They fell behind early on to a goal on the break, but equalised when Tom Wheeldon helped on Liam Morley's corner and Elliot Crook prodded the ball home. Louie Parish then set up Morley for the second, only for Saints to level before half-time. Wyrley defended well in the second half and Wheeldon grabbed the winner.

Wyrley Wanderers U11 1 Silverdale Harriers U11 1

Six-goal Billy Ford led the way as Wyrley hit double figures. Joe Coates bagged a brace and Harvey Taylor, Jamie Haldron and Braden O'Shea got one each.

Brereton Town U10 3 Sheffield United U10 1

Brereton put in a cracking team performance to take the honours.

Ad Murray scored, man of the match Jamie Speed notched from the penalty spot and unfortunate Sheffield also conceded an own goal.

Take your pick of the deserted local banks

CALLING all anglers: Do you realise how deserted the banks are at the moment?

I visited three large (15 acre-plus) local still waters last Sunday, controlled by three different clubs, writes Vernon Leadbetter.

Admittedly, they were not day tickets, but I counted only eight anglers – and five of those were on one water!

The weather was glorious, for October anyway. The forecast is not so bright for this weekend but with so much bank space available you can pick your time and place and get in that favourite swim for a change.

A few people have been asking me for advice about pike fishing and handling. Tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday I shall be demonstrating how to make wire traces and rigs and handing out leaflets about safe handling procedures for pike.

Competition

So come in and have a chat, especially if you are interested in catching your first pike.

Our October pike competition is open to anyone who submits a picture and brief details about their pike capture to our Facebook or email address.

It's not about the heaviest; it could be your first-ever pike capture or one caught in unusual circumstances.

It must be caught this October and have been returned to the water it came from alive!

We are awarding a £50 gift voucher to the winner. There's not long to go, so start submitting your photos.

Dare I say it, but Christmas is just around the corner and we fishermen always prefer fishing tackle rather than tals and hankies, so it's a good time to start dropping hints to family and friends.

We have some very special offers this year to help everyone's budget.

Anyone who is interested in taking up fly fishing would benefit from either half or full-day courses we are organising with Hardy Greys academy instructor Andy Taylor, including casting tuition, fishing and use of tackle.

Please contact us for more details.

If you have any interesting catches to report, please contact me at Archline Angling on 01543 426158, call into the store at Unit 1, Brindley Business Park, Chasewater Drive, Cannock, WS11 7GD or email info@archlineangling.co.uk

Victory secured despite bad habit of conceding

Cannock 5 Southgate 4

CANNOCK, third in the English Hockey League, just about beat second-from-bottom Southgate. Cannock's habit of conceding goals saw them ship four goals before they prevailed.

Due to a lapse of concentration in the Cannock defence, Southgate's Simon Bird opened the scoring with a break down the right after three minutes.

Play was end to end until Cannock's Ben Edge forced a ball into the opposition D only to be deflected off a Southgate stick, over their keeper and into the net. With five minutes to the end of the half, fine work by Marc Edwards led to a penalty corner, clinically converted by Peter Jackson. The second half saw Cannock pressure force another penalty corner.

Cannock Hockey Club

Beck (3), Dan Beck (2), Chris Darnley and Josh Gunnell. Cannock thirds lost their 100 per cent record but stayed unbeaten after drawing 3-3 with Loughborough University.

Cannock went two goals up in the first 10 minutes.

However, lapses in concentration allowed the students to convert three penalty corners.

Cannock found the equaliser to share the points against a side who had, until then, not conceded a goal.

Defending league champions Cannock fourths remained unbeaten this season with a 6-2 win over Sutton Coldfield.

Goals came from Callum Stacey (2), Louie Morris (2), Dan Bosi and an own goal.

Cannock fifths got back to winning ways with a comprehensive 8-0 victory over Olton & West Warwick.

Chris Roberts bagged a hat-trick; there was a brace for Cameron Beswick while Alex Hill, Paul Edwards and Darren Pugh also scored. Cannock sixths dominated Lichfield fifths to the tune of 14-0 as they remained firmly entrenched at the top of Midlands Central League NW2. Guralp Mann, Paul Martin, Don Clarke, Raff Moscatiello, Mark Cotterill and Oz Harris were among the goals.

Cannock sevenths (Futures), who play in the same league as the sixths and lie second, chalked up another convincing win with a 4-2 victory over Lichfield sixths. Scorers were G Nellist (2), Greenwood, Kingston.

Cannock under-16s began their assault on the national championships in fine style with 7-0 and 3-0 wins over Burton and Stourport respectively.

Cannock's under-14s also made a convincing start to their age group championships with a 21-0 win over Harbourne and a 4-1 success against Bridgnorth.

Defeat comes late in the game

Cannock Ladies 1 Wakefield 2

A LATE GOAL condemned Cannock Ladies firsts to defeat at home to Wakefield.

Cannock started positively with a tight defence and creating opportunities up front.

However, Wakefield led with a 28th minute well-struck penalty corner.

Cannock continued to apply pressure to the Wakefield defence and were rewarded with a 58th-minute equaliser for Ashley Monarda.

But Wakefield grabbed the winner from a short corner in the last minutes of the game. Cannock host Brooklands at the weekend.

Cannock Ladies 2 Sheffield Hallam 0

Cannock made amends for the previous day's defeat in the second round of the Investec Women's Cup on Sunday.

They were the dominant side throughout the first half, their tight defence ensuring that Sheffield Hallam struggled to get into the home D.

Cannock missed opportunities in the first half, but remained in charge of the match during the second period.

Finally, two goals in the space of five minutes through Emma Pardo and Nicola Martin proved decisive.

Close as Rugeley lose by one point

Rugeley 12 Essington 13

RUGELEY came up just short in a closely-fought clash with Essington at St Augustine's Field.

The game started with Rugeley showing plenty of determination but the visitors were not about to give them a free run at the try line.

Silly mistakes by Rugeley culminating in a penalty for the visitors within the first two minutes, but Rugeley forwards Robbie Castles and Cei Griffin caused them to waste their goal-scoring opportunity with some outstanding defensive play.

Rugeley continued to show some impressive set-play, holding the visitors' constant barrage of push and kick and counter-attacking with a certain amount of success.

In the 40th minute, flanker Nick Lyons was able to sneak a try in at the visitors' left corner to give Rugeley a 5-0 half-time lead.

Fly-half Jamie Richer was replaced by Michael Wilkes, resulting almost immediately in a try by him right under the noses of the Essington Pack, with the conversion by Grosott bringing the score to 12-0 to Rugeley.

But in the next 35 minutes, Essington stood afoot Rugeley and scored 13 points without reply.

■ Rugeley seconds hooker Eddy Rodger got his first-try for the club as his side went down 17-10 at Essington.

Goal-flow in second win

Heath Hayes U18

Rugeley Rangers U18 0

HAYES beat Rugeley Rangers for the third time in three weeks to go second in Lichfield League Division Two. Despite the Rangers keeper making several fine stops, Sam Rogers and Leighton D'Onofrio bagged two goals apiece, with man of the match Jack Bradley, Harry Turnbull, Conor Williams and Jacob Lloyd all finding the net.

Lichfield City U15 3

Heath Hayes U15 2

Hayes were cruising at 2-0 up in this Lichfield League Division One game, but a goal just before half-time brought the hosts back in and within 10 minutes of the second half they led.

Spencer Hands and Jack Smith scored for Hayes.

Top spot taken despite red card on half-time

Cleobury Mortimer 5 Burntwood 19
BURNTWOOD edged into top place in Midlands Three West North by virtue of this win at Cleobury Mortimer.

It was the home team's first defeat of the season. Rob Cartwright's side are now the only undefeated team in the league but it was not all plain sailing, particularly when they lost Hal Gozukucuk to a red card right on half-time.

They were 14 points up and looked comfortable but the second half was more even with a try each.

Aza Dune's scored with a penalty on eight minutes after forwards took a Cleobury scrum. The pack took another home scrum a minute later but infringed at the ruck. The kick at goal was missed.

Burntwood were penalised but the chance was spurned and great work by Graham Shelley to turn the ball over after 25 minutes set up an attack.

Steal

Another steal against the Cleobury put-in forced the home side to infringe and Dune's made it 6-0.

Five minutes later Gozukucuk and skipper Cartwright took play to the hosts. The hosts were penalised and Dune's kicked.

Jack Neal charged a kick down to earn a scrum 10 metres out. The ball was worked into midfield where full-back Matt Sishton popped the ball up to Brett Taylor for a try near the posts. Dune's conversion attempt was charged down.

Gozukucuk got his red card for an offence unnoticed by players and fans.

Burntwood RUFC

Cleobury got a try four minutes into the second period. Turnover ball was hacked downfield but the touchdown was dubious.

The Burntwood scrum won a penalty after eight minutes but Dune's slipped as he tried to convert.

Another missed penalty attempt by the hosts saw them tap and go at the next award but defence was solid.

With 10 minutes to go the visitors were reduced to 13 as Shelley was yellow-carded but Cleobury had their hooker cautioned and Taylor crossed for his second try near the final whistle.

Burntwood seconds beat Willenhall thirds 24-5 at home with tries from Oliver Whitehouse and James Langford and a penalty try.

Mitch Carless added three conversions and a penalty.

Burntwood Development XV made it a hat-trick of club wins beating Wheaton Aston 31-17 at home in a Merit Table match.

In the third round of the RFU Senior Vase competition Burntwood travel to Kesteven, Grantham, Lincolnshire on November 10.

Chase celebrate becoming first league champs

FOOTBALLERS in Rugeley are celebrating being first winners of a new five-a-side league.

Chase FC won the Premier Football Five-a-side League, while Hardly Athletic beat The Ravens 4-0 to take the chairman's cup.

Richard Beeson, of Allport Road, Cannock, who runs the league at Rugeley Leisure Centre, said it was gaining increasing popularity in the area.

He said: "A lot of lads don't want to play in the traditional Sunday morning football league any more, so five-a-side is really on the up."

The 34-year-old left his job as an assistant manager of the Spar supermarket in Pelsall to set up a five-a-side business which now has 14 teams and more than 70 members.

Players train at the leisure centre on Tuesday and Thursday nights and do not have to pay a joining fee.

"These are nights that Sunday league players would normally have to train but instead they are playing actual competition football," added Beeson.

"It's really starting to take off."

Draw no surprise in share of spoils

Chasetown 1 Belper 1
DRAW specialists Chasetown and Belper unsurprisingly played out a stalemate at the Scholars Ground in the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League Division One South, writes Paul Mullins.

The hosts had drawn two of their previous matches, while six out of Belper's opening nine league fixtures had ended all square, so the same was always likely to happen on Saturday.

Clear goalscoring opportunities were few and far between but after a quiet opening 20 minutes, Chasetown carved out the best three chances.

On 21 minutes, a great passing movement saw Andrew Westwood bear down on goal, but his effort was blocked.

A minute later, new signing Scott Rickards fired a free-kick over the bar, before Gary Hay went the closest, when his fierce shot was parried by goalkeeper Dave Ratcliffe.

In stoppage time, Hay and Rickards combined with the latter driving an effort over the crossbar.

Anthony Maguire created three chances in the space of a few minutes, forcing a corner after a positive run, and then setting up two chances for substitute Gavin Saunders.

On 74 minutes, substitute Karl Colley skied a great chance and the visitors took the lead in the 78th minute.

Steve Warne squared the ball to substitute Jared Stephens, who could hardly miss from close range.

Chasetown levelled in the fourth of five additional minutes as Danny Smith headed home Rickards' free-kick.

Debutant beaten by wonder strike

ON an evening of Champions League football, Market Drayton's winning goal would have graced both Old Trafford and the Nou Camp, but instead came amid the Scholars Ground fog, writes Paul Mullins.

The decisive strike came in the 57th minute when Shaun Humphries took aim from way outside the penalty area and Chasetown keeper Mariusz Kisiel could do nothing as the ball pinged off the inside of the frame of the goal – a strike any goalkeeper would have struggled to repel. There was even a stunned silence between the ball striking the crossbar and the celebrations of the visiting players before spectators realised the strike had actually found the net.

Eighteen-year old Kisiel, making his league debut for The Scholars made a confident early save from Darryl Proffitt, as the Shropshire side looked to avenge the FA Cup defeat against Chasetown last month.

Chasetown had two half-shots for penalties for handball, but their only real effort in the first part of the game was when Richard Teesdale headed wide.

Kisiel was again called into action to make a fine stop to deny Nick Porter, but Chasetown who had a golden opportunity before half-time to take the lead. Gary Hay was pushed inside the box but skipper Teesdale's effort to Damien Stevens' right was saved, with Stevens pouncing on the rebound.

It was the last action in the game for the goalkeeper, who had been sent off in the cup tie in September. He left arm in some discomfort with some reports suggesting he had broken his collar bone. Former Chasetown defender Mattie Cohen – who had replaced Stevens in goal in the cup match – again took over between the posts.

Phoenix celebrate rising to top rung

MEMBERS of Cannock Phoenix Swimming Club are celebrating promotion.

The team finished third in the Division Two finals of the Diddy League and will go up a rung next season.

It was a hard-fought season with no fewer than 24 other teams competing in the division.

Cannock Phoenix finished third in rounds one and two but won the third gala by a 14-point margin.

Club members now look forward to showing their capabilities at the higher level.

Head coach Simon Murcott said: "This year has been a proud achievement for the club, with many gala wins and two promotions."

"The club is going from strength to strength and will continue to do well."

"With dedicated helpers and coaches working with talented hard-working swimmers, Cannock Phoenix Swimming Club is now building a reputation for producing great success," he added.

Mile High's trip proves low point

RUGELEY darter Mark Hylton left Ireland with nothing after opening round losses in the latest legs of the PDC Players Championship.

He travelled to the Gleneagle Hotel, Killarney, where a tough draw on Saturday saw him lose 2-6 to 'The Warrior', Wes Newton.

The draw didn't favour 'Mile High' Hylton in the second event.

He played former BDO world champion Mark Webster and went out 6-1.

ICE-COOL DURRELL GRABS A LATE WIN

Hednesford Town 2 Witton Albion 1

AN incredible comeback from Hednesford Town grabbed victory from the jaws of defeat.

Injury-time goals from Sean O'Connor and Elliott Durrell won a vital game at the top of the Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division on Tuesday night.

The Pitmen, fresh from a comeback against Grantham Town on Saturday, showed superb character after conceding a sucker-punch goal to Witton with nine minutes left.

As the home side pushed up to chase an opening goal, a superbly-judged through-ball by Matthew Wood evaded Francino Francis and set substitute Ashley Stott away to finish calmly through the legs of keeper Dan Crane.

Witton always looked dangerous in the second period with Ben Harrison heading wide after Crane had struggled to hold a rasping free-kick on 78 minutes.

Blocked

Francis had the home side's best chance on 40 minutes as Durrell's corner was headed at goal from two yards by the defender only to see it somehow blocked on the line by Matthew Cooper.

The Pitmen roared back in dramatic fashion. Woolfe smacked a shot against the post before O'Connor scored his second of the week when a deep cross from Melbourne fell invitingly in the box a minute into stoppage time.

The euphoria at Keys Park at the equaliser was raised a notch higher as the crowd peered through the dense fog that had enveloped the pitch and saw Harrison haul down Michael Lennon in the box and receive a straight red card.

Durrell stepped up, under huge pressure with what was effectively the last kick to the game, and coolly slotted his penalty into the left corner to send The Pitmen third in the table.

Grantham 2 Hednesford Town 3

Hednesford came from behind to extend their unbeaten away record to six matches, taking a late victory at Grantham.

Second-half goals from Neil Harvey and Elliott Durrell turned the game in favour of the Pitmen as Rob Smith's side recovered from being 2-1 down.

The Pitmen defence gave Grantham too much space and Connor Higginson broke through, forcing keeper Dan Crane to parry a shot which fell to Paul Grimes, who finished into an empty net on 19 minutes.

The away side equalised on 53 minutes through Neil Harvey, as the Barbados striker headed in Durrell's perfectly judged free-kick.

Parity lasted barely two minutes as Lee Potts met McGhee's cross to head into the top corner.

The Pitmen had their equaliser when a Nathan Woolfe cross found Durrell, who slotted home into the corner. The winner came with eight minutes remaining as Durrell crossed for O'Connor to volley past the helpless Lindley.

Slimline Ryan gets back in the ring with style

A GREAT WYRLEY amateur boxer has made a triumphant return to the ring.

Ryan Mansell was told five months ago by his coach Peter Hickenbottom that he would not be allowed to represent Great Wyrley ABC until he got his weight under control.

At that time he tipped the scales at nearly 17 stone and was taking on super-heavyweights unsuccessfully.

But Mansell has since controlled his eating and knuckled down to hard training in the Wyrley gym.

At the weekend, and weighing just 14st 1lb, just over the cruiserweight limit, he tackled Pleck ABC's Asil Hussain – and won. A nip and tuck first round saw both boxers show good skill and hand speed.

But in the second, Mansell began to reap the rewards of his improved fitness and drive his opponent round the ring with good body shots and uppercuts. A good burst of punches just before the bell had the Pleck boxer covering up.

Decision

It was all Mansell in the last and he took a unanimous decision.

Hickenbottom said: "When we came back from Wolverhampton in May after Ryan had been stopped in two rounds I had a good chat with him, and told him that he had all the potential to be a good fighter, but until his weight came down all he would be is a punch-bag for the super-heavyweights."

"He could've walked away from the sport, but to his eternal credit he got his diet under control and we worked him very hard in the gym."

"Everyone has commented on how much better he looks, and I've set him a new target, to get down to 12st 7lb, light-heavyweight, for his next bout. Everyone at Great Wyrley ABC is very proud of him."
